Thousands Turn Out At Forsyth Exhibits Superior At '64 Ulster Fair

Under cloudy to sunny skies with mild temperatures prevailing several thousand county residents and neighbors from nearby communities made their way to Forsyth Park to attend the opening of the two-day Ulster County Fair.

Albert Kurd, a fair official, made known that Alexander Al-drich, executive assistant to Governor Rockefeller, is expected to visit the fair grounds Thursday at 11 a. m.

Judging of various exhibits by 4-H units of the county, and other special displays began soon after the fair officially got underway at 10 a. m. Dairy showman-ship exhibitors paraded before the judges and many happily and proudly accepted ribbons.

New Exhibits

Scores of families brought picnic lunches, and those who didn't had the opportunity to purchase lunches and refreshments at the various booths. Fair officials noted that several new exhibitors are at the fair this year.

Today the fair closes at 10 p. m. and Thursday's hours are 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Many visitors commented that this year's fair is one of the finest held in the county. The fair, sponsored by the Ulster County Agricultural Society, is the only Educational Fair in the state, and the only one that has no admission charge.

All indications are that everyone participating in the exhibits and other events that feature the annual fair, left no stone unturned to make their displays the best possible.

Popular Booths

The Home Demonstration building, the 4-H Club booths, The Rip Van Winkle Council of Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts proved popular attractions to fairgoers this forenoon.

The 4-H Dairy Cattle Showman-ship classes displayed unusual skill and training. Officials listed the following awards of ribbons:

Group A (exhibitors 12 and under)—blue ribbons: Joanne Bruhlman, Route 1, Wallkill; Karen Bruhlman, same address; Carole Sabino, Box 36 Lake Katrine; Ruth Gerham, Route 1, Box 90A, Wallkill; red ribbons: Helen Boice, Lake Katrine; Oliver Bogart, Stone Ridge; Sue Coddington, Stone Ridge; I. Di-McCormac, Box 169, Gardiner; Gary Maier, Wallkill; white ribbons—Martin Browne, Box 125, Kingston; John Ross, Gardiner; Nancy Warren, High Falls.

Group B (exhibitors 12-14 years)—blue ribbons—Timothy Gerham, Box 90A, Wallkill; Michael Warren, High Falls; Lucille Sabino, red ribbons—Ruth Campbell, Box 375, New Paltz; Bruce Bogart, Stone Ridge; Alice Franch, Wallkill; white ribbons—Arthur Boice, Lake Katrine; Diana Hall, (Continued on Page 12, Col. 4)

Two in Taxi Are Badly Hurt in Crossing Accident

Two men were seriously injured at 10:59 a. m. today when a taxi and West Shore freight train collided at the eastern Parkway crossing at Glenier Lake Park.

In Benedictine Hospital where they were taken by Fatum's Ambulance were Clifford Craig of Mossy Brook Road, High Falls and Edward Hackett, 18, of Box 371, Glenier Lake Park, passenger in the taxi.

Further details of the accident were lacking at press time as both men were so severely injured they could not be questioned, it was reported.

Fatum's Ambulance Service received the call shortly before 11 a. m. and went to the scene where they found the taxi and engine of the north bound freight still locked together and the two victims still in the vehicle. It took from 15 to 20 minutes to extricate the passenger from the rear seat. It was necessary to rip off the doors and other parts of the car before Hackett could be released.

The engineer backed the train a few feet to allow space for the rescue work. Craig was not pinned in the car.

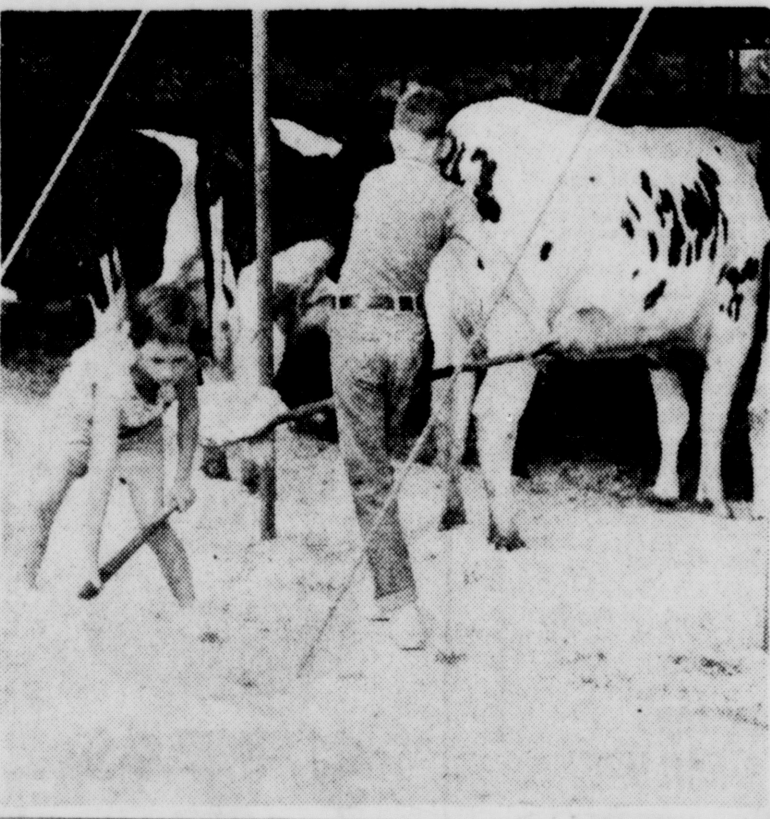

After striking the car the freight train proceeded some 100 to 125 yards before being brought to a stop according to the men who effected the rescue.

The taxi was proceeding from Glenier Lake to Route 9W at the time of the accident according to state police who are investigating.

PREPARE FOR FAIR—Youngsters view livestock stalls with interest (above) as the annual Ulster County Fair got underway 10 o'clock this morning. Youthful exhibitors (below) tidy up stalls and make animals comfortable in preparation for the judging to take place today. Horse show will take place Thursday with 4-H Club entries being judged in the morning and open classes starting at noon. The fair at Forsyth Park will be open today until 10 p. m. and Thursday 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. There will be competitive, organization and commercial exhibits. (Freeman photo)

College Plans to Get State Airing Monday

The State University architect's office is scheduled to study the general developmental plans for the Ulster County Community College in Albany next Monday.

This report was made known by local college officials today who said that the college trustees this week had received two alternate campus master plans from Augustus R. Schrowang Sr., of Augustus Schrowang Associates, college architects.

'Significant Milestone'

"This act represents a significant milestone in the life of the college and the development of the college should now be rapid," a college official exclaimed.

The alternate campus plans are related to the development of the 85-acre permanent campus at Stone Ridge. Ulster County took title to a gift of approximately 70 acres in Stone Ridge in early 1963 and accepted title to an additional 15 acres in January of 1964.

The college is presently conducting classes at 214 West Chestnut Street.

The tentative plans presented by Schrowang are the result of extensive and intensive work with college officials concerning the needs of the college for the foreseeable future.

Borings to Follow

Developmental plans for the UCCC will be reviewed in Albany Monday by Otto Teegan, architect for the State University. Representatives of the college architects, engineers, trustees and administration will be present at the session.

After the general approval of the State University Architect's office is obtained test borings will immediately be authorized to determine soil conditions in the areas where actual construction is anticipated.

Completion of such borings will mark the authorization to proceed with engineering studies and working plans and drawings for the first phase of construction.

It is recognized that the amount of construction which can be completed within the first phase of the long range building plan is apparently limited by the 1961 referendum. Definitive plans for the first phase of long range construction plans necessarily remain quite tentative until State University Architect's office approves the master plan and un-detailed cost studies and analyses can be made.

The engineering firm of Brin-nier and Larios has completed a topographic map of the entire site, analyzed the problems related to the disposal of the effluent from the college sewage disposal system and recommended a feasible and acceptable method of disposal of the effluent, and supervised the drilling of a water well which will supply water in sufficient quantity and of sufficient quality.

Cigarettes Are Coming Back Is Report of Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cigarettes have rocketed back from the slump that followed a government report in January linking them to lung cancer and heart disease.

U.S. factories shipped almost 45.2 billion cigarettes in June an increase of about 8.5 per cent over June 1963, the Internal Revenue Service announced today.

While cigarettes were making their comeback, cigar sales dropped in June.

Small cigars, to which many switched early this year, took a positive. Shipments, dropped from 190 million in May to 78 million in June. But the June figure was still double that for small cigars in June 1963.

The slump in cigarette sales had set in right after the government committee headed by Surgeon General Luther L. Terry issued its report in January.

There was a considerable rebound in April, but June was the first month to show a sizable increase over the corresponding month of 1963.

June's 8.5 per cent increase compares to a normal year-to-year increase of 2 or 3 per cent.

A report issued by the Council for Tobacco Research — U.S.A., said 10 years of tobacco industry-supported studies had produced no laboratory proof of a link between smoking and lung cancer or evidence that smoking contributes significantly to heart and circulatory ailments or stomach ulcers.

Dr. Wendell G. Scott, president of the American Cancer Society, said Tuesday in New York that the report by the industry group was "self-serving and published without regard for the public welfare."

Wilkins Asks Plain CR Pledge For Dem Platform

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights leader Roy Wilkins urged Democratic platform writers today to pledge vigorous enforcement of the new civil rights law and give the country a contrast with what he called the "squeamish circumlocution" of the Republican plank.

Wilkins, chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights and secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, declared that "the riots which have shaken several urban communities cannot be condoned." He said they must be understood against a background of deprivation and frustration.

Wilkins' testimony was prepared for the Democratic platform committee as it concentrated on the civil rights issue, considered the most difficult to treat in a plank acceptable to all wings of the party.

A trial balloon floated by some Southern moderates for a compromise statement that might avoid a floor fight appeared to have been shot down when Pierre Pelham, a committee member from Alabama, said Tuesday he could accept nothing less than a call for repeal of the Civil Rights Act.

Displeasing to Wilkins The Republican platform language that aroused Wilkins' scorn includes a call for "full implementation and faithful execution" of new and old civil rights laws, improvements as needed and any necessary action to ensure the right to vote.

But Wilkins said the slogan, "leave civil rights matters to the states has become the hallmark" of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate. Goldwater has said he accepts the Republican platform and, as president, would enforce the laws.

The Ellenville industrialist-businessman spent two days in Washington conferring with government leaders, senators, cabinet members and other key officers. Following the two-day conferences, Resnick said that apparently party leaders in Washington will base their 1964 campaign on the record of the Kennedy-Johnson Administration. He pointed to the Housing Bill, the Nuclear Test Ban Treaty, the tax cut, the Area Redevelopment Act, the Mass Transportation Act, the Civil Rights Bill and the Anti-Poverty Bill. Rep. J. 'Equal Time' Bill Dies in Senate

Dems Relieve Johnson Of Decision on Debate

By JACK BELL.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats have relieved President Johnson of the burden of deciding whether to debate Sen. Barry Goldwater in a radio-television campaign confrontation.

They locked horns with Republicans over the issue of who is chicken.

Score Is 44-41

By a 44-41 vote the Senate tabled Tuesday night — and thus killed — legislation to suspend equal time provisions of the Communications Act.

The measure was similar to the one which paved the way for Kennedy-Nixon debates in 1960.

Twelve Democrats joined 29 Republicans in opposing the tabling. All the 44 votes to kill were cast by Democrats.

Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., charged that it was "very evident some influence has been ordered from higher up to junk this bill because of the exigencies of this campaign."

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., the keynote speaker for the Democratic National Convention opening Monday, voted against tabling the compromise measure which he had supported.

Pastore said Goldwater had once declared on a television program the president of the United States should not be placed in the position of debating an opponent.

Pleases President

The rejected bill would have suspended for 60 days the requirement that if a network offered free time to any presidential candidate, it would have to give equal time to all, including those of perhaps a dozen minor parties.

Although nobody concerned would say publicly that Johnson wanted the bill killed, the action came after Democratic legislative leaders had conferred with him at the White House.

$230,000 Is Cost For Extra Police In Rochester Riot

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—It cost the state, Monroe County and this city about $230,000 to enlist extra police strength during last month's racial violence here.

State officials, a Rochester newspaper reported Tuesday, set that price for transporting and maintaining National Guardsmen and State Troopers summoned to help quell the weekend of rioting and looting.

Monroe County and Rochester, its largest city, will share the $153,000 cost of the Guardsmen. The state will pay $137,000 for the troopers, the officials were quoted as saying.

The violence erupted July 24 at a street dance when police attempted to arrest a man on a charge of disorderly conduct. In the ensuing riots, four persons were killed, nearly 350 injured and more than 900 arrested.

Damage to property during the weekend was estimated at $700,000 by police.

To Bring In Games For Video Main Purpose Is For Research Job

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Syncom 3 communications satellite, intended to relay television pictures of the October Olympic Games in Japan quickly to North America and Europe, rocketed into a preliminary orbit today en route to a planned stationary post high above the Pacific Ocean.

Officials were cheered by the early success of the mission. But the "Olympic Star" satellite must execute a number of complex maneuvers in the next 12 days to shift its orbit and reach its goal as the world's first truly synchronous — stationary — satellite.

Dramatic Start While Syncom 3 is a research vehicle and television is not its main job, successful intercontinental transmission of Olympic pictures would be the most dramatic performance so far by communications satellites.

U.S., Japanese, Canadian and European interests plan to spend nearly $1 million to demonstrate Olympic television capability with Syncom 3. Practically none of the transmission will be live, primarily because of time differences, and, ironically, Canadian and European viewers probably will see more of the film relayed by Syncom 3 than will those in the United States.

11 Hours for Each Pass The three-stage TAD-thrust augmented Delta — rocket barreled away from Cape Kennedy at 7:15 a.m. (EST) to propel the drum-shaped satellite into the "transfer" orbit — a great egg-shaped route ranging from about 700 to 22,300 miles above the earth and requiring about 11 hours for each pass.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported 30 minutes after launching that all three rocket stages had performed as planned and the 145-pound package of communications instruments was on course and sending strong signals.

Syncom 3's next hurdle will be reached about 28 hours after launching—about 11 a.m. Thursday—when it reaches the 22,300-mile-high point of its orbit for the third time. Then a small rocket is to be fired by ground command to jockey the satellite out of its wide-swinging transfer path into a circular orbit about 22,300 miles up.

This is to occur above Sumatra. Then ground monitors, commanding small payload jets by radio, plan to guide Syncom 3 delicately for more than 19 days to the desired mid-Pacific position. The jets are to arrest it there.

To Match Earth Speed The payload's final target area is a point 22,300 miles above the intersection of the Equator and the International Date Line. It would appear to hover motionless there because it would be traveling at a speed matching that of the earth's rotation below.

Although two or three hours of Olympic television film is to be sent from Japan to the United States in the course of the 15 day Olympic period, U.S. view-

See Development as Start Of Anti-Leukemia Vaccine

By FRANK CAKEY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new cancer research development, which a Senate group says fore-shadows a likely major breakthrough in pin-pointing the cause of the highly fatal leukemia of childhood, became known in detail today.

The Senate Appropriations Committee referred to the development in general terms in a report released Tuesday. Commenting on it and other scientific findings reported in recent hearings, the committee said: "Effective methods of prevention and cure (of leukemia) seem distinct possibilities in the light of several observations, some old and some new."

Perhaps the key finding — made so recently that the scientists involved have not yet had their findings published in medical literature — is that virus-like particles found in the blood of some human victims of leukemia can apparently be made to grow in laboratory test tubes.

The development — climaxing three years of effort dating from the time when such particles were first found in leukemia patients — is a necessary prelude to pinning down whether the particles are truly viruses and whether, indeed, they are directly or indirectly involved in causing human leukemia.

It could also be a first step towards trying to develop a vaccine against leukemia.

Landfill Decision One for Council, Griggs' Opinion

Kingston's refuse disposal project in the Fifth Ward, in the opinion of Attorney Richard W. Griggs, who represents the Fifth Ward Community Association, should have been left with the Common Council and not otherwise approved.

The association, which opposes establishment of a refuse disposal project in a swampland near Kingston Point, is due to meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at St. Mary's Hall, North Street.

Being Prepared

The group, composed of many residents of the ward, has indicated it will seek legal action to prevent recently authorized use of the site for landfill refuse disposal. The site is now being prepared by the public works department for dumping, which, it was indicated today, is due to start next month.

Griggs, in his statement today, said: "On July 28 I was generously allowed the privilege of addressing the Kingston Common Council concerning the opposition of so many residents of the Fifth Ward to the establishment of a refuse disposal site in their ward. One of the matters called to the attention of the council members was the fact that they, as members of the legislative branch of the city government, had not been consulted by Mayor or Schwenk concerning their proposed refuse disposal site, and the mayor's plan was being cloaked in secrecy."

Takes Issue With Mayor

"It is interesting to note that on Aug. 6, 1964, Mayor Schwenk in a press release, stated, 'As of this moment, the city has secured all agreements, approvals, and appropriations necessary to proceed with its plan for a sanitary landfill, land reclamation project in the Fifth Ward.'"

"On the following day, during a meeting with representatives of the Fifth Ward Community Association, he was asked if he had received any authorization from the Kingston Common Council to purchase private lands. To which, the mayor replied 'yes.'"

"These statements of the mayor were untrue then, and they are untrue now. He has never had any authority granted him by the Common Council to enter into any contracts for the acquisition of private lands, and of even more importance, is the fact that he has never received the legislative authority required under the Conservation Law, in

To Bring In Games For Video Main Purpose Is For Research Job

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Syncom 3 communications satellite, intended to relay television pictures of the October Olympic Games in Japan quickly to North America and Europe, rocketed into a preliminary orbit today en route to a planned stationary post high above the Pacific Ocean.

Officials were cheered by the early success of the mission. But the "Olympic Star" satellite must execute a number of complex maneuvers in the next 12 days to shift its orbit and reach its goal as the world's first truly synchronous — stationary — satellite.

Dramatic Start

While Syncom 3 is a research vehicle and television is not its main job, successful intercontinental transmission of Olympic pictures would be the most dramatic performance so far by communications satellites.

U.S., Japanese, Canadian and European interests plan to spend nearly $1 million to demonstrate Olympic television capability with Syncom 3. Practically none of the transmission will be live, primarily because of time differences, and, ironically, Canadian and European viewers probably will see more of the film relayed by Syncom 3 than will those in the United States.

11 Hours for Each Pass

The three-stage TAD-thrust augmented Delta — rocket barreled away from Cape Kennedy at 7:15 a.m. (EST) to propel the drum-shaped satellite into the "transfer" orbit — a great egg-shaped route ranging from about 700 to 22,300 miles above the earth and requiring about 11 hours for each pass.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported 30 minutes after launching that all three rocket stages had performed as planned and the 145-pound package of communications instruments was on course and sending strong signals.

Syncom 3's next hurdle will be reached about 28 hours after launching — about 11 a.m. Thursday — when it reaches the 22,300-mile-high point of its orbit for the third time. Then a small rocket is to be fired by ground command to jockey the satellite out of its swiftingswing transfer path into a circular orbit about 22,300 miles up.

This is to occur above Sumatra. Then ground monitors, commanding small payload jets by radio, plan to guide Syncom 3 delicately for more than 10 days to the desired mid-Pacific position. The jets are to arrest it there.

To Match Earth Speed

The payload's final target area is a point 22,300 miles above the intersection of the Equator and the International Date Line. It would appear to hover motionless there because it would be traveling at a speed matching that of the earth's rotation below.

Although two or three hours of Olympic television film is to be sent from Japan to the United States in the course of the 15 day Olympic period, U.S. view-

See Development as Start Of Anti-Leukemia Vaccine

By FRANK CAKEY

AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new cancer research development, which a Senate group says forebodes a likely major breakthrough in pin-pointing the cause of the highly fatal leukemia of childhood, became known in detail today.

The Senate Appropriations Committee referred to the development in general terms in a report released Tuesday. Commenting on it and other scientific findings reported in recent hearings, the committee said: "Effective methods of prevention and cure of leukemia seem distinct possibilities in the light of several observations, some old and some new."

Perhaps the key finding — made so recently that the scientists involved have not yet had their findings published in medical literature — is that virus-like particles found in the blood of some human victims of leukemia can apparently be made to grow in laboratory test tubes.

The development — climaxing three years of effort dating from the time when such particles were first found in leukemia patients — is a necessary prelude to pinning down whether the particles are truly viruses and whether, indeed, they are directly or indirectly involved in causing human leukemia.

It could also be a first step towards trying to develop a vaccine against leukemia.

Gag Voices Give Bernardi Lift to $100,000 Salary

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There is a lot more to television than meets the eye. In the case of character actor Herschel Bernardi it adds up to an annual income of around $100,000.

Bernardi, who has been the guest star in television series ranging from "Bonanza" to "Dr. Kildare," is particularly remembered for his portrait of the weary, cynical and soft-hearted Lieut. Jacoby of 114 "Peter Gunn" adventures.

His semi-secret career a profitable one, started about eight years ago when he learned there was a demand for "character voices" to be used in television commercials.

"I made a tape recording of some material I'd developed for a comedy routine that used 22 different voices," he recalled. "Then I jumped on my motor scooter and went from agency to agency selling myself."

The "gag voices," as Bernardi calls them, started a whole new sideline. His face never is used. He has produced the voices of a rejected tuna, a service station, a candy bar, a sick automobile and a squirrel, among others.

"This turned into my freedom crusade," said Bernardi. "It made me free to do the things I really wanted to do as an actor."

But after a time, fashions in commercials started to change — gag voices, even 22 of them, were no longer in such great demand. Bernardi's voice was caught in that deadly theatrical trap — type-casting.

"I invested about $300 in another tape, still a comedy sketch, and did a lot of other voices with a 'soft sex sell,' the new big thing," he said.

That worked, too: "It's a joy to go to the mailbox and see it stuffed with those lovely residual checks."

Meanwhile he has been working steadily in featured movie roles, many television assignments and has even found time for summer stock.

Rocky Welcomes Keating Word That He'll Run

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller welcomes Sen. Kenneth B. Keating's decision to seek re-election and says the Republican senator "thoroughly understands the problems of New York State."

Rockefeller greeted Keating's announcement Tuesday with enthusiasm, and took an indirect swipe at U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the Democrat who is expected to oppose Keating.

"Born here in New York State and a lifetime resident," Rockefeller said of Keating, "he knows every area of the state and thoroughly understands their different problems."

Kennedy now lives in Virginia and is a voting resident of Massachusetts.

Kennedy has powerful backing for the nomination among Democratic leaders who say the law requires only that he be a resident of the state on election day to be eligible to run as a senator here.

Kennedy has not announced his candidacy, but is expected to do so within the next few days. Keating announced at a news conference yesterday in Manhattan that he would run for a second term.

Decline Predicted In State Rate of Thyroid Cancer

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Health Department says the incidence of thyroid cancer in New York State more than doubled between 1941 and 1962. But the department predicts the rate will decline.

The department reported Tuesday there had been 2,767 cases of thyroid cancer in the 21-year period.

The agency noted that use of X-rays in treating infants had been blamed as a cause of thyroid cancers. The rate will decline, it predicted, "because treatment of infants with X-rays now is obsolete."

Local Cancer Society Elects Officers at Annual Meeting

Well known uptown business man, George Svirsky was named president of the Ulster County Unit of the American Cancer Society at the annual meeting held Highland, vice presidents; Fredrick Carpenter, treasurer and Mrs. Frank Koenig, secretary.

Reports on Volunteers

Mrs. Arthur Freeman, volunteer county director, gave her activity report for the past year. There were 77,400 pieces of literature distributed in Ulster County (exclusive of the Crusade). A total of 320 films were shown to an audience of approximately 24,500 viewers; 82 medical talks were given and 19 lay speakers participated in 550 cancer meetings.

Two films, "Time and Two Women" and "Breast, Self Examination," have been shown to 3,325 women over the age of 21. These two films are included in the teaching courses for student nurses at the two local hospitals.

American Cancer Society volunteers made 25,650 dressings and distributed 18,522 dressings to more than 212 patients. During the past year 217 trips were made by volunteers who transported 17 patients to the Tumor Clinic for treatment. Mrs. Freeman traveled 3,510 miles for the American Cancer Society and attended 59 meetings throughout the county.

Mrs. Freeman said that her report was made possible by the tireless efforts of countless volunteers without whom there would be no American Cancer Society and she expressed her sincere thanks to them on behalf of the Ulster County Unit and the state board.

James Rua, campaign treasurer, thanked all of the volunteers for their efforts in making the recent crusade a success.

Urges Vols Find Ways to Screen For Firebugs

NEW YORK (AP)—An insurance executive has urged the state convention of volunteer firemen to find ways of screening applicants in order to keep firebugs out of their ranks.

Donald Herfstman of the N.Y. Fire Insurance Rating organization said Tuesday there should be examinations to detect the small number of firemen who might set fires so they can watch them and help put them out.

About 2,000 of the state's 120,000 volunteer firemen are attending a four-day convention of the Firemen's Association of the State of New York.

Apportionment Given In Highway Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Apportionment of $3.8 billion among the states to continue the National Highway Program in the fiscal year starting July 1, 1965 was announced today by the commerce department.

The apportionment includes $2.8 billion for the 41,000-mile interstate system—scheduled for completion in 1972. The remaining $1 billion is for the so-called ABC program which involves the construction and repair of primary and secondary systems and their urban extensions.

The apportionment, with total ABC funds and the interstate aid in that order, included: New York — $37,226,251 and $132,305,250.

Beaten, Shot, Robbed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A woman was beaten unconscious, shot and robbed in her room at the Hilton hotel Tuesday — her screams for help mistaken by a maid for shrieks of girls waiting for the Beatles.

Gertrude Goodman, of Marysville, Calif., about 50, was taken to Children's Hospital in critical condition. Police said a bullet had grazed her head.

About 2,000 fans of the British singing group swarmed around the hotel before the Beatles reached the hotel four hours later.

Saw Mill Crash Takes Three Lives

ELMSFORD, N.Y. (AP)—A two-car collision on the rain-swept Saw Mill River Parkway in Westchester County killed three persons Tuesday night.

The victims were Sebastian Liccione, 53; his wife, Anna, 52, and Mrs. Nancy Lisanti, 67, all of Long Island City in Queens.

Mrs. Lisanti, who was Mrs. Liccione's mother, was driving the automobile, police said.

The driver of the other car, Drew Richmond, 18, of Yonkers, told police he was driving south on the parkway when Mrs. Lisanti's car, headed north, "went into a spin" and crossed the highway's center line into his path.

Police said it was raining heavily at the time.

Richmond was reported in fair condition in a Valhalla hospital.

The World Today

Johnson vs. Goldwater Looks Like Real Rough and Tumble

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP)—Rock 'im and sock 'im and belt 'im every chance we get.

This clearly seems the Johnson administration's policy against Sen. Barry Goldwater in the presidential campaign which, before it even starts, promises to be the roughest, toughest in memory.

Goldwater didn't spare President Johnson's feelings when he called him a "phony." Johnson and some of his top aides have already set the pattern of not sparing Goldwater's.

One prime example: this week's performance by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara at the Democrats' hearings on the platform they are trying to stitch together.

Another example: Johnson's blazing attack on Goldwater, one of the first personal assaults he has made since becoming president.

Last week Goldwater criticized this country's defense program: "Under our present leadership, with its utter disregard for new weapons, our deliverable nuclear capacity may be cut down by 90 per cent in the next decade."

The Defense Department promptly fired back that this statement of the Republican presidential candidate was "without foundation," was "contrary to the facts" and was "totally false."

McNamara followed this up in his personal appearance before the platform committee.

"Let me assure you that our strategic forces are and will remain in the 1960s and 1970s sufficient to insure the destruction of both the Soviet Union and Communist China under the worst imaginable circumstances accompanying the outbreak of war," McNamara said.

"There should be no doubt about this in the mind of any American. There is none in the minds of our enemies."

Then he unloaded a mountain of statistics to show this country not only is superior to the Communist world in weaponry and will continue so — but that it is prepared for any kind of war, big or little.

He called American defenses an "aggregation of force without parallel in human history."

All this will probably not discourage Goldwater from future criticisms. But, judging from the speed and magnitude of McNamara's response, plus that of Johnson himself, the administration apparently is set to smash into Goldwater from now on.

Last week Goldwater told a news conference that in dealing with the Southeast Asia crisis Johnson seemed to give military commanders authority to use the "whole inventory" of American weapons. The "whole inventory," of course, would have to include nuclear weapons.

Johnson himself, in telling the nation Aug. 4 that he had authorized American carrier-based planes to hit North Viet Nam PT boat centers, explained he had ordered only "limited action."

The next day McNamara told a news conference that the naval commanders of U.S. ships off North Viet Nam had been instructed to protect themselves with "whatever force is necessary."

The State Department in the name of McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk issued a statement calling Goldwater's interpretation of Johnson's remarks "unjustified and irresponsible."

Last Saturday at his own news conference Johnson said of Goldwater's interpretation:

"Loose charges on nuclear weapons without any shadow of justification by any candidate for office, let alone the presidency, are a disservice to our national security, a disservice to peace, and as for that matter a great disservice to the entire free world."

And the campaign hasn't even started.

Dental Clinics Set

Dr. Theodore S. Drachman, Commissioner of Health of Ulster County, announces a series of dental clinics for pre-school children, ages four and five, which will be conducted at the Bennett School in Boiceville Aug. 26-27. Children participating in these clinics will have their teeth inspected, cleaned and will have an opportunity to participate in the program of decay prevention. Appointments may be made by calling Mrs. Wieser for Aug. 26 and Mrs. Cruthers for Aug. 27.

Local Cancer Society Elects Officers at Annual Meeting

at the Governor Clinton Hotel recently.

Other officers elected are Dr. Philip W. Goldman of Kingston, Robert Corcoran of Port Ewen and Mrs. Peter Roumelis of Highland, vice presidents; Frederick Carpenter, treasurer and Mrs. Frank Koenig, secretary.

Reports on Volunteers

Mrs. Arthur Freeman, volunteer county director, gave her activity report for the past year. There were 77,400 pieces of literature distributed in Ulster County (exclusive of the Catskills). A total of 320 films were shown to an audience of approximately 24,500 viewers; 82 medical talks were given and 19 lay speakers participated in 350 cancer meetings.

Two films, "Time and Two Women" and "Breast, Self Examination," have been shown to 3,325 women over the age of 21. These two films are included in the teaching courses for student nurses at the two local hospitals.

American Cancer Society volunteers made 25,650 dressings and distributed 18,522 dressings to more than 212 patients. During the past year 217 trips were made by volunteers who transported 17 patients to the Tumor Clinic for treatment. Mrs. Freeman traveled 3,510 miles for the American Cancer Society and attended 59 meetings throughout the county.

Mrs. Freeman said that her report was made possible by the tireless efforts of countless volunteers without whom there would be no American Cancer Society and she expressed her sincere thanks to them on behalf of the Ulster County Unit and the state board.

James R. campaign treasurer, thanked all of the volunteers for their efforts in making the recent crusade a success.

Urges Vols Find Ways to Screen For Firebugs

NEW YORK (AP)—An insurance executive has urged the state convention of volunteer firemen to find ways of screening applicants in order to keep firebugs out of their ranks.

Donald Horstman of the N.Y. Fire Insurance Rating organization said Tuesday there should be examinations to detect the small number of firemen who might set fires so they can watch them and help put them out.

About 2,000 of the state's 120,000 volunteer firemen are attending a four-day convention of the Firemen's Association of the State of New York.

Apportionment Given In Highway Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Apportionment of $3.8 billion among the states to continue the National Highway Program in the fiscal year starting July 1, 1965 was announced today by the commerce department.

The apportionment includes $2.8 billion for the 41,000-mile interstate system—scheduled for completion in 1972.

The remaining $1 billion is for the so-called ABC program which involves the construction and repair of primary and secondary systems and their urban extensions.

The apportionment, with total ABC funds and the interstate aid in that order, included: New York — $57,226,251 and $132,305,250.

Beaten, Shot, Robbed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A woman was beaten unconscious, shot and robbed in her room at the Hilton hotel Tuesday — her screams for help mistaken by a maid for shrieks of girls waiting for the Beatles.

Gertrude Goodman, of Marysville, Calif., about 50, was taken to Children's Hospital in critical condition. Police said a bullet had grazed her head.

About 2,000 fans of the British singing group swarmed around the hotel before the Beatles reached the hotel four hours later.

Saw Mill Crash Takes Three Lives

ELMSFORD, N.Y. (AP) — A two-car collision on the rain-swept Saw Mill River Parkway in Westchester County killed three persons Tuesday night.

The victims were Sebastian Liccione, 53; his wife, Anna, 52, and Mrs. Nancy Lisanti, 67, all of Long Island City in Queens.

Mrs. Lisanti, who was Mrs. Liccione's mother, was driving the automobile, police said.

The driver of the other car, Drew Richmond, 18, of Yonkers, told police he was driving south on the parkway when Mrs. Lisanti's car, headed north, "went into a spin" and crossed the highway's center line into his path.

Police said it was raining heavily at the time. Richmond was reported in fair condition in a Valhalla hospital.

Johnson vs. Goldwater Looks Like Real Rough and Tumble

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rock 'im and sock 'im and belt 'im every chance we get.

This clearly seems the Johnson administration's policy against Sen. Barry Goldwater in the presidential campaign which, before it even starts, promises to be the roughest, toughest in memory.

Goldwater didn't spare President Johnson's feelings when he called him a "phony." Johnson and some of his top aides have already set the pattern of not sparing Goldwater's.

One prime example: this week's performance by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara at the Democrats' hearings on the platform they are trying to stitch together.

Another example: Johnson's blazing attack on Goldwater, one of the first personal assaults he has made since becoming president.

Last week Goldwater criticized this country's defense program: "Under our present leadership, with its utter disregard for new weapons, our deliverable nuclear capacity may be cut down by 90 per cent in the next decade."

The Defense Department promptly fired back that this statement of the Republican presidential candidate was "without foundation," was "contrary to the facts" and was "totally false."

McNamara followed this up in his personal appearance before the platform committee.

"Let me assure you that our strategic forces are and will remain in the 1960s and 1970s sufficient to insure the destruction of both the Soviet Union and Communist China under the worst imaginable circumstances accompanying the outbreak of war," McNamara said.

"There should be no doubt about this in the mind of any American. There is none in the minds of our enemies."

Then he unloaded a mountain of statistics to show this country not only is superior to the Communist world in weaponry and will continue so — but that it is prepared for any kind of war, big or little.

He called American defenses an "aggregation of force without parallel in human history."

All this will probably not discourage Goldwater from future criticisms. But, judging from the speed and magnitude of McNamara's response, plus that of Johnson himself, the administration apparently is set to smash into Goldwater from now on.

Last week Goldwater told a news conference that in dealing with the Southeast Asia crisis Johnson seemed to give military commanders authority to use the "whole inventory" of American weapons. The "whole inventory," of course, would have to include nuclear weapons.

Johnson himself, in telling the nation Aug. 4 that he had authorized American carrier-based planes to hit North Viet Nam PT boat centers, explained he had ordered only "limited action."

The next day McNamara told a news conference that the naval commanders of U.S. ships off North Viet Nam had been instructed to protect themselves with "whatever force is necessary."

The State Department in the name of McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk issued a statement calling Goldwater's interpretation of Johnson's remarks "unjustified and irresponsible."

Last Saturday at his own news conference Johnson said of Goldwater's interpretation:

"Loose charges on nuclear weapons without any shadow of justification by any candidate for office, let alone the presidency, are a disservice to our national security, a disservice to peace, and, as for that matter a great disservice to the entire free world."

And the campaign hasn't even started.

Dental Clinics Set

Drachman, Commissioner of Health of Ulster County, announces a series of dental clinics for pre-school children, ages four and five, which will be conducted at the Bennett School in Boiceville Aug. 26-27. Children participating in these clinics will have their teeth inspected, cleaned and will have an opportunity to participate in the program of decay prevention. Appointments may be made by calling Mrs. Wierse for Aug. 26 and Mrs. Cruthers for Aug. 27.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, AUGUST 19, 1964

EVER-GROWING DISTRICT

Residents in a community like Kingston can always pause over a crisis in Southeast Asia or a revolution in Latin America and agree rather indifferently with each other that "it can't happen here."

But the lack of adequate school facilities for an ever-growing Kingston area population is a bare fact that nobody can honestly choose to ignore. Classroom shortage is one of those problems that a community never really escapes.

The president of the local Board of Education has reported that since 1959 the public school enrollment has increased by about 1,400 students in the Kingston Consolidated School District. He expects 1,840 more will be going to school in five years.

Present facilities will be grossly inadequate in 1969 for the anticipated 11,240 students, the president insists. He warns that even as early as September, 1965, "our secondary school facilities may be seriously taxed over capacity."

The implications of the situation are clear enough. Although education is primarily an intellectual process, a student can hardly be expected to tap the best of his mental resources if he must be cramped into a physically overcrowded classroom or building. The body, as well as the mind, should be given room to grow.

TALKING, NOT SHOOTING

A saving grace of this nuclear age is that it also is the age of the United Nations. In a less civilized era the Southeast Asian crisis could have escalated quickly into all-out war. Now it will be debated and voted on, and most of us prefer an exchange of ballots to an exchange of bullets.

William L. Ryan, the Associated Press foreign analyst, says China's foreign minister, Chen Yi, has pooh-poohed the idea that the Tonkin Gulf naval action could lead to nuclear war. Few of us are ready to take that assurance at face value. Yet it is comforting to draw the conclusion that Red China is more interested in an ideological showdown with Moscow than in a military showdown with us.

What Peking really wants is withdrawal of our forces from South Vietnam. Most Americans would like to see that, too. But first we want guarantees that Red aggression against the free people of Vietnam will end. An honorable solution that will avoid nuclear holocaust will probably be evolved because it must be.

Meanwhile, so long as the United Nations continues to debate, the likelihood of an expanded shooting war probably will lessen. So long as we are talking we at least are not shooting. And happily, the civilized world grows more aware each year that war as an extension of national policy has become obsolete.

WHY NOT PEOPLE?

It's easy these days to get the idea that human kindness, sentiment and compassion have gone down the drain.

People are fighting all over the world, and it seems that nobody likes anybody.

Then along comes something which proves all over again that at heart most people are really softies.

Why, for instance, did the Ohio National Guard halt its artillery practice during its recent annual maneuvers at Camp Grayling, Mich.?

On orders from the Pentagon? For international expediency? From lack of ammunition?

No. Because of a flock of tiny birds.

The rough, tough soldiers discovered that almost 1,000 Kirtland's warblers—practically the world's entire population of this rare species—were using a wooded jack-pine tract of the firing range for nesting.

So all firing in that section was stopped until the feathered families were ready to move on.

Is such sentimentality for the birds?

You bet. And wouldn't it be fine for people, too?

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

FOR UNICAMERAL LEGISLATURES

If the principle of "one man, one vote" is to be forced on separate states insofar as the election of any and all of their legislative bodies is concerned, why not adopt the idea of the unicameral—or one-house—legislature and be done with it? It would save everybody the money that would otherwise be spent on virtual reduplication. If people want to know how the unicameral legislature works, they can look at Nebraska, which has had one for more than twenty-five years.

The original reason for two-house legislatures was precisely to get away from the "one man, one vote" principle. Historically, the freedom loving peoples of the world have always distributed the possible tyranny of a majority. As South Carolina's John Calhoun pointed out long ago in his famous "Disquisition on Government," individual and minority liberties are dependent upon the existence of a veto on possible majority excesses and madresses. In Great Britain, the House of Lords exercised the veto power for generations; in the U.S., the Senate can veto the House of Representatives. Calhoun is not very much read these days; his identification with the slavery issue has blotted out the reputation he once had for being the keenest of our native political scientists. But, quite apart from his defense of slavery, which was highly illogical in the light of his general defense of freedom for the individual, Calhoun was wholly right in his analysis of the need for a vetoing body in society.

The Calhoun thesis has been neglected by practically all of our modern political scientists, who seem to think that if fifty-one per cent of an electorate wishes to head a minority of forty-nine per cent it would be "democratically" all right to do it. The single exception to this mass delusion of the modern political scientists that I know of is the late Isabel Paterson, whose great book, "The God of the Machine," has just been rescued from oblivion and republished by the Caxton Press of Caldwell, Idaho. Washington, Franklin, Madison, Hamilton, John Jay, and Thomas Jefferson have generally been considered our leading Founding Fathers, but Mrs. Paterson thought the most important Founder of all was Roger Sherman of Connecticut, who was responsible for our dual method of representation in the two houses of Congress, one method being by popular vote in the House of Representatives, with Congressmen allotted in proportion to population, and the other being by equality of the States in the Senate. Says Mrs. Paterson of Roger Sherman, "his structural sense was sound; he hit on both the regional bases and the mass vote function at once. He knew what would stand steady."

Mrs. Paterson, like Calhoun, believed that no political entity could exist in freedom for very long if it did not have the duality of representation, a combination of "one man, one vote" and "one region, one vote." "To prevent the larger, wealthier, or more populous states from throwing their weight against the smaller states," said Mrs. Paterson, "their representation as states was made equal. To prevent the smaller or poorer states from gaining up and fleeing the more opulent states—throwing their joint weight—the popular representation was made proportionate to the number of citizens."

What goes for the larger geographical area of the United States goes for the constituent states themselves. If the separate geographical areas of a given state are not represented equally in one of the two legislative bodies regardless of population, the larger, wealthier, or more populous counties and towns will be able to "throw their weight" against the smaller. The cities will dominate the back country, or one state will overrule another. To cite a specific case, in California the populous but relatively parched south could on the "one man, one vote" principle be tempted to "throw its weight" to the end of seizing northern California's water supply.

Since the U.S. Supreme Court seems bound to have its way in denying a combination of popular and regional representation inside each of the fifty states of the union, American citizens will have to trust to the structure of the Federal government itself to preserve minority and individual liberties. This being the case, there is no sense in having two separate popular legislative bodies in each state. Based on "one man, one vote," both legislatures would represent the same interests. There would be no veto, no check. The people, in effect, would be paying twice over for what they would be getting.

If we must have a possible "tyranny of the majority," let us get it on the cheap? A unicameral legislature is enough.

Mushroom Hunters Beware!

Don't Be Bold — Grow Old

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Along with football practice and gradual shortening of the days comes an outdoor sport indulged in by braver souls than I am—collecting mushrooms. Each year brings its reports of mushroom poisoning so don't let an "honest mistake" shorten your days. There are more than 3,000 species of this plant, and it would take a real expert to be familiar with half of them.

To complicate matters, poisonous and non-poisonous varieties are often deceptively similar. This is especially apt to fool you if you are gathering mushrooms in a part of the country that is new to you. Other reasons why mushroom poisoning continues to occur are that the poisonous varieties do not have an unpleasant taste or smell and their color is not a reliable key to identifying "brand X." Even in the laboratory there is no simple test that will reveal all the poisons found in these plants.

Some persons become ill after eating mushrooms when no one else in the party is affected. This is due to allergy and is not to be considered true mushroom poisoning. The latter may be rapid or delayed. The rapid type usually occurs within two hours of eating the mushrooms and is caused by the poison, muscarine. The result is severe abdominal pain, violent diarrhea, salivation, sweating and shortness of breath. Atropine, if given promptly, will prevent death.

Delayed poisoning does not occur until 6 to 15 hours after the mushrooms are eaten. The symptoms are similar to those of the acute poisoning. Hospitalization and the use of the artificial kidney are required to overcome this disease.

To be perfectly safe you should eat only mushrooms grown for the market or raised in your basement from known edible stock. If you insist on combining mushroom gathering with a trapeze in the woods, you should study a good guide book carefully. Bold mushroom eaters rarely get to be old mushroom eaters. Some of the volumes which mushroom hunters rely upon:

"Common Edible Mushrooms," by Clyde M. Christensen, "Field Book of Common Mushrooms," by William Sturgis, "The Mushroom Hunter's Field Guide," by Alexander H. Smith.

Q—Would taking one diuretic pill daily for 14 days before menstrual period have a bad effect on the kidneys? It is taken to prevent painful swelling in my fingers, wrists, and knees which disappears as soon as I start to menstruate.

A—This sounds like a perfectly safe procedure, especially if you check with your doctor at regular intervals.

The Russians will try more individual incentive as a way to boost farm production. But old-time Bolsheviks shake their heads about creeping capitalism.

Political huckstering being what it is, we are now getting into the period when it can be said: By their signs shall ye know them.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

The major problem I found in South Viet Nam is the instability of the Khanh government.

This instability leads to indecisiveness. Orders are given, then changed. Plans are made, then altered and altered again.

Important posts aren't filled because Gen. Nguyen Khanh's government can't agree on the appointments. Men of small ability remain in high office; first-rate generals languish in unimportant posts.

Field generals and province chiefs too frequently are given vague orders or conflicting instructions. I found on my tour of the war area.

As a result, the over-all program for winning the war limps along. In a few spots, the new concepts are being carried out with dispatch. But many bureaucrats, local officials and local army leaders are marking time, waiting to see what is going to happen.

Meanwhile, top men in the Khanh government fight among themselves. Some ambitious generals try to expand their spheres of authority. There are frequent reports that a coup is imminent.

U. S. GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVES HERE have made up their minds that an overthrow of the Khanh government by coup or assassination would be disastrous. They are, therefore, working on steps to prevent either.

U. S. officials are co-operating with Khanh in the development of personal security measures.

(that would make it more difficult for an assassin to reach him. They're helping in the re-organization of his personal intelligence setup. They have given him advice on the formation of a crack unit of troops to defend Saigon in the event of an attempted coup.

U. S. military advisers stationed through South Viet Nam now carefully watch the movement of Vietnamese field army troops to make certain that none make a sudden drive for Saigon to help out over a coup.

U. S. Army advisers have been ordered to "discourage" any such troop movements.

In Saigon, high U. S. officials have made it clear to South Viet Nam's top Army leaders that the U. S. would consider a coup disastrous in its effort.

AT THE SAME TIME, U. S. Ambassador Maxwell Taylor, Deputy Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson, Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland and the heads of the U. S. Information Agency and of the Agency for International Development in South Viet Nam have started meeting regularly with Khanh and his top military, economic and propaganda aides every Friday morning as sort of joint war strategy board that will work out the over-all conduct of the war.

This will, it is hoped, give the war more firm direction from the top.

The coming sharp setup of U. S. advisers in the provinces and with Vietnamese divisions, regiments and battalions will make certain that the new firm top direction will be carried out in the field.

A—Hadassah is the Hebrew name of Queen Esther.

Q—Is it correct to say "postmistress"?

A—A woman appointed to the position is officially designated as "postmaster."

Q—Is it possible for Chinese to become American citizens by naturalization?

A—Yes, under the Act on December, 1943.

Q—What is the source of the inscription on the Liberty Bell?

A—"Proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof" is from the Bible—the Book of Leviticus.

Q—What was the Marie Celeste mystery?

A—The Marie Celeste, a sailing craft, left New York Harbor on Nov. 7, 1872, bound for Genoa. Five weeks later she was found abandoned in the Atlantic, 300 miles west of Gibraltar. The crew was never heard from.

A listless palm tree stood out in the driveway. The building was a cube of sugar. At the door, a parking attendant lounged under bright lights. Inside, there was a big dark room with little flame-colored lights in the ceiling, a corner bar, and, in the gloom, an assortment of black, formica tables and teen-agers.

The kids resembled people. They sat quietly sipping Cokes, smoking, whispering, and watching the loud combo on the bandstand. All looked fatigued. The boys in skin-tight slacks lounged on their sacroiliacs. The girls, in slack sets, wore beehive hairdos and some had those new coiffures which make a female look as though she had been dragged by the hair by a gorilla.

None of the faces had any expression. Dick Cami, the kid from the Bronx, tried a smile, but he gave up. Mr. Cami is 29, darkly handsome, and has a wife and two small children. He has something else: he owns a Peppermint Lounge. There are Peppermint Lounges in many cities, but the best and most enduring are in Bossier City, Louisiana; New York; Boston; Miami; and the Peppermint West in Los Angeles.

Cami owns the one on a Miami Causeway. He understands the teenagers. Their parents don't. And the kids don't. But Dick Cami does. The proof is that 300 of them show up on an average night and spend $2,300 on Cokes, hamburgers and, if they are of age, beer.

The police department rates his lounge as law-abiding and orderly. In three years of riotous noise, there haven't been four police calls. He leaned against the bar, watching five young men with hair growing down the back of their necks, get on the small bandstand, and plug their guitars and an electric piano into loudspeakers.

Keating-Goldwater Dilemma Not Really New to Politics

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Politics is sometimes defined as the art of carrying water on both shoulders. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, of New York, has just given an example of how it is possible for him to announce his candidacy for reelection as a Republican and still remain silent on whom he favors for President of the United States—if anybody.

Mr. Keating was frank and sincere in stating that, on issues previously before the Senate, his views and those of Sen. Goldwater have differed considerably and that the people of New York State are well aware of these differences. He added:

"I seriously doubt that any voter in New York would be impressed by any lip service I might give Sen. Goldwater or he might give me in the name of party unity."

Certainly the voters do not expect Sen. Keating to surrender his convictions on any issue, but they do have a right to know whether he intends to cast his ballot for the Republican Presidential nominee. If Mr. Keating really intends to vote for Sen. Goldwater, after all, many voters will ask what his objection is to saying so publicly.

In the statement issued by Mr. Keating yesterday announcing his candidacy, he said that he believed in the two-party system and that he has "never thought of bolting the Republican party." From this it might be inferred that Mr. Keating wants to receive all the benefit to be derived from being named as the Republican party's nominee for the U. S. Senate from New York State without being burdened with any of the alleged disadvantages associated with the candidacy of the man at the top of the ticket.

The dilemma is not new. Many a member of Congress has faced it before. Southern Democrats have often voted against the wishes of a Democratic President, and so have Republicans taken issue with a President from their own party.

Only a few days ago, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who originally came to the Senate and was reelected for one term as a Republican but has been elected and served for the last two terms as a Democrat, was one of the two Senators, both Democrats, who voted against the resolution which President Johnson sponsored and which authorized armed action in Southeast Asia in retaliation against attacks on our naval vessels. Many Southern Democrats, moreover, didn't vote for the civil rights law recently enacted.

It is, therefore, not unusual for members of either house of Congress to express dissent from their own party's leaders. Such votes are defended as reflecting the desires of the constituencies back home.

But the respective names and insignia of the Republican and the Democratic party appear officially on the ballot in an election. The candidates listed thereunder must have some association with the party, or they are not legally permitted to run in that column. The question is whether the Republican state convention in New York, in designating Mr. Keating as the Republican nominee for the United States Senate, can consistently do so if he declines to say whether he will vote for the man who was nominated by a majority of the delegates to the Republican national convention held last month in San Francisco. There is no Senatorial primary in New York state, so the state convention will have to resolve this question.

The concrete issue has been brought to a head by Rep. Paul A. Fino, a member of the House for the last 12 years and Republican committee chairman of the Bronx. He has just announced that he will seek the nomination for the Senate at the New York state Republican convention later this month and says that Mr. Keating's statement yesterday is "tantamount to bolting the Republican party."

Will the New York state convention ask Sen. Keating to say whether he intends to vote for the national nominee of his party? If the convention doesn't do so, would the nomination of Mr. Keating by the convention be interpreted nationally to mean a virtual repudiation of Sen. Goldwater as the Republican Presidential candidate?

Sen. Keating has a right to confine himself in his campaign to specific issues on which he may feel the people of New York State are entitled to know his views before making their choice.

As the matter stands today, however, Mr. Keating has left his own position up in the air. The wisest course would be for the Republican Presidential nominee to refrain from voting for either candidate. If Mr. Keating becomes his party's nominee and his name is to appear in the Republican column on the ballot, lots of voters will insist on knowing beforehand whom he favors for the Presidency in the November election. Otherwise, many Republicans may also refrain from voting for either candidate. If Mr. Keating becomes his party's nominee and his name is to appear in the Republican column on the ballot lots of voters will insist on knowing beforehand whom he favors for the Presidency in the November election. Otherwise, many Republicans may also refrain from voting for either Mr. Keating or Bobby Kennedy, if the latter is the Democratic candidate in New York State.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

A listless palm tree stood out in the driveway. The building was a cube of sugar. At the door, a parking attendant lounged under bright lights. Inside, there was a big dark room with little flame-colored lights in the ceiling, a corner bar, and, in the gloom, an assortment of black, formica tables and teen-agers.

The kids resembled people. They sat quietly sipping Cokes, smoking, whispering, and watching the loud combo on the bandstand. All looked fatigued. The boys in skin-tight slacks lounged on their sacroiliacs. The girls, in slack sets, wore beehive hairdos and some had those new coiffures which make a female look as though she had been dragged by the hair by a gorilla.

None of the faces had any expression. Dick Cami, the kid from the Bronx, tried a smile, but he gave up. Mr. Cami is 29, darkly handsome, and has a wife and two small children. He has something else: he owns a Peppermint Lounge. There are Peppermint Lounges in many cities, but the best and most enduring are in Bossier City, Louisiana; New York; Boston; Miami; and the Peppermint West in Los Angeles.

Cami owns the one on a Miami Causeway. He understands the teenagers. Their parents don't. And the kids don't. But Dick Cami does. The proof is that 300 of them show up on an average night and spend $2,300 on Cokes, hamburgers and, if they are of age, beer.

The police department rates his lounge as law-abiding and orderly. In three years of riotous noise, there haven't been four police calls. He leaned against the bar, watching five young men with hair growing down the back of their necks, get on the small bandstand, and plug their guitars and an electric piano into loudspeakers.

The boys are called The Legends. They look like Beatles with fried chicken accents. In a moment they were ready and they nodded to each other. At once there was a sound like a safe falling through a glass roof. The kids called it music. The lyrics consist mostly of The Legends yelling "Yeah Yeah" into microphones.

In a moment, the formica tables were empty and the teen-agers were on the small dance floor. One end of it has a floor to ceiling mirror, so that the dances can see themselves at their tribal rites. The boys and girls never touch each other: in fact, the gyrations and U-turns seem to take them farther and farther apart.

All the expressions were still dead. But the feet were in swift motion; the hips rotated; the heads of the boys jerked like roosters; the girls' hands appeared to be climbing an invisible rope. The dances are called Hully Gully, Mashed Potato, Bird, Continental, The Slop, The Fly, The Monkey, The Dog and The Frug.

It comes out the same; Dementia convolution. The Legends continued at top speed, and the sound shook the pictures on the walls. Cami looked at an older man who sat grinning. "Let them work off their animal spirits here," Cami said. "Better here than in a parked car." The older man thought about it.

There was a Colored girl with long black hair who had dyed round white polka dots in it. A blonde girl in a black dress danced in her stockings, the head shaking loosely. All the music sounded the same, but the Legends insisted that the numbers were called: "The Beatles Just Got to Go," "Oil in My Land," and "Sittin' on My Yah Yah Waitin' for My La La."

At 11 o'clock, eight fellows and girls got on the floor to do the Ska. It starts off like an ancient cotillion, with the boys facing the girls in line. But the moment the drummer kicked the big skin, all sixteen went out of their minds and looked like passengers fighting for the last lifeboat on the Titanic.

There was an iron fence around the dance floor and a boy with long blonde woolly hair and silken whiskers stood on it and danced wildly, without falling off. The band sang: "Bend your head, swing your arms, shake your hips, and do a dip."

When it was over, The Legends got off the stand, unplugging their instruments, and a Negro outfit from Jamaica called Freddie Scott's Blues Busters got on. They do the impossible: play calypso to Rock 'n Roll. They played so fast and loud that the sound met itself coming off the back wall.

There were more dead expressions, and expressive feet and torsos. The middle-aged man took his wife, a sagging job in rhinestone heels, and left. Dick Cami said goodnight, and they walked out into the comparative silence of highway traffic.

"Well," the man said, turning the key in the ignition lock, "the tribal rites are over. We're going to have rain for a week."

LBJ Lectures Nation on Racial Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Saying it is time to speak frankly on racial troubles, President Johnson has declared the nation's fate will not be decided "by street rioters and night raiders."

"We demand — and we are going to have — respect for law and order in this land," Johnson said Tuesday in addressing members of the Citizens Committee for Community Relations that will help implement the new Civil Rights Act.

Must Cease Guessing
Using the occasion to lecture the country on the racial issue, Johnson spoke sharply about speculation on the effects of the "white backlash" in the forthcoming election.

He said it is time to "cease this cynical guessing of who will be helped — who will be hurt — by disorders and disobedience and disrespect for the decency of our society."

"All will be hurt — none will be helped — if responsible citizens sit on the sidelines regarding the stability of our society as a spectator sport."

The question facing the nation, he said, is not how whites or Negroes will vote in November, "the question is how we shall work together and succeed together for the next hundred years to come."

Americans, he said, can master the racial problem "or we can leave it to master us" and the question all citizens must ask themselves is "are we prepared to give up our prosperity and peace and let our prejudices make paupers of us all?"

"Are we of this generation to be remembered for allowing America's progress to run aground on the shoals of race?"

Can't Allow Division
A nation of courage, compassion and common sense, Johnson added, "must not and will not allow its greatness to be degraded by those who work only for its division."

The President returned to the subject of racial problems later in the day when he spoke to some 90 U.S. marshals, in town for a conference, gathered on the White House lawn.

He reminded the marshals "that lawlessness is found in many places and many forms" and added: "sophisticated syndicates which systematically evade the law are no more tolerable to a law-abiding society than spontaneous street demonstrations which degenerate into disregard for the law."

Teeners Prepare To Storm Frisco Hall for Beatles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A quiet frenzy hung like fog in the air today as thousands of youngsters prepared to storm the Cow Palace for the Beatles' concert tonight.

At the Hilton Hotel the British quartet scheduled a day of rest in preparation for their first appearance on the current U.S. tour.

9,000 Greet Singers
The Beatles arrived Tuesday and were greeted by an estimated 9,000 teen-agers, far below predicted estimates of between 50,000 and 100,000. About a dozen girls required first aid. None was seriously hurt.

The British group performed their fans a 40-second audience at the airport before they were whisked off to the downtown hotel. A press conference turned into an autograph session when several young fans slipped into the hotel.

Some fans arrived at the airport Monday night. Others began arriving at 6:30 a.m., more than 12 hours before the Beatles' plane touched down.

Police estimated 2,000 fans greeted the singers when they arrived at the hotel. Within minutes the four were at the window of their room on the 15th floor. A faithful throng gathered.

Heard Blocks Away
Youngsters roared each time one of them appeared in the window. Shrieks could be heard two blocks away.

In the lobby and main floor corridors hundreds of young girls dressed in slacks, Beatle sweatshirts and sneakers roamed about in hopes of catching a glimpse of their heroes.

At a news conference later the Beatles obligingly identified themselves for reporters and photographers who seemed to have trouble telling them apart.

Children Closed Door To Icebox, 3 Died
BALTIMORE (AP) — Police say other children have admitted shutting the door of an abandoned icebox in which three children suffocated.

The victims, Howard Banks, 5, Dorene Alston, 5, and Marlene Kennedy, 8, were found Aug. 10, the day after they had disappeared, in an old icebox in a garage behind a house in the block in which they all lived.

Patrolmen Nicholas Wingrove and Frank Wilt said Tuesday they were puzzled because the garage door was closed when the children were found, and so began questioning neighborhood children.

LBJ Lectures Nation on Racial Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Saying it is time to speak frankly on racial troubles, President Johnson has declared the nation's fate will not be decided "by street rioters and night raiders."

"We demand — and we are going to have — respect for law and order in this land," Johnson said Tuesday in addressing members of the Citizens Committee for Community Relations that will help implement the new Civil Rights Act.

Must Cease Guessing

Using the occasion to lecture the country on the racial issue, Johnson spoke sharply about speculation on the effects of the "white backlash" in the forthcoming election.

He said it is time to "cease this cynical guessing of who will be helped — who will be hurt — by disorders and disobedience and disrespect for the decency of our society."

"All will be hurt — none will be helped — if responsible citizens sit on the sidelines regarding the stability of our society as a spectator sport."

The question facing the nation, he said, is not how whites or Negroes will vote in November, "the question is how we shall work together and succeed together for the next hundred Novembers to come."

Americans, he said, can master the racial problem "or we can leave it to master us" and the question all citizens must ask themselves is "are we prepared to give up our prosperity and peace and let our prejudices make paupers of us all?"

"Are we of this generation to be remembered for allowing America's progress to run aground on the shoals of race?"

Can't Allow Division

A nation of courage, compassion and common sense, Johnson added, "must not and will not allow its greatness to be degraded by those who work only for its division."

The President returned to the subject of racial problems later in the day when he spoke to some 90 U.S. marshals, in town for a conference, gathered on the White House lawn.

He reminded the marshals "that lawlessness is found in many places and many forms" and added: "sophisticated syndicates which systematically evade the law are no more tolerable to a law-abiding society than spontaneous street demonstrations which degenerate into disregard for the law."

Teeners Prepare To Storm Frisco Hall for Beatles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A quiet frenzy hung like fog in the air today as thousands of youngsters prepared to storm the Cow Palace for the Beatles' concert tonight.

At the Hilton Hotel the British quartet scheduled a day of rest in preparation for their first appearance on the current U.S. tour.

9,000 Greet Singers

The Beatles arrived Tuesday and were greeted by an estimated 9,000 teen-agers, far below predicted estimates of between 50,000 and 100,000. About a dozen girls required first aid. None was seriously hurt.

The British group permitted their fans a 40-second audience at the airport before they were whisked off to the downtown hotel. A press conference turned into an autograph session when several young fans slipped into the hotel.

Some fans arrived at the airport Monday night. Others began arriving at 6:30 a.m., more than 12 hours before the Beatles' plane touched down.

Police estimated 2,000 fans greeted the singers when they arrived at the hotel. Within minutes the four were at the window of their room on the 15th floor. A faithful throng gathered.

Heard Blocks Away

Youngsters roared each time one of them appeared in the window. Shrieks could be heard two blocks away.

In the lobby and main floor corridors hundreds of young girls dressed in slacks, Beatles sweatshirts and sneakers roamed about in hopes of catching a glimpse of their heroes.

At a news conference later the Beatles obligingly identified themselves for reporters and photographers who seemed to have trouble telling them apart.

Publiscist Turned Producer Happy As Beatles Arrive

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This is the week that the Beatles consolidated their invasion of the United States. Aside from several million teen-type girls, no one could be more delighted than a former Hollywood press agent named Walter Shenson.

The shaggy Liverpudlians kick off their American concert tour in the Cow Palace of San Francisco tonight. This weekend they will arrive in Los Angeles, causing despair throughout the police force. The bigger the mob scenes, the more Shenson likes it.

I remember Walter as a top-notch publiscist for Kim Novak, Rita Hayworth and other local figures. Then one day he disappeared and turned up in London as a producer. He had a rousing success with "The Mouse That Roared" and followed it with "A Matter of Who" and "Mouse on the Moon."

Walter returns to his native California each summer so his two young sons will not become too anglicized. As he was preparing to return to England last September, a United Artists executive asked if he would like to produce a film with the Beatles. "Who are they?" Shenson asked in all innocence.

Walter agreed to look into the matter and he had the assurance that if the film made a profit only in England, United Artists would be satisfied. After some difficulty, he located the Beatles in London.

"They all piled into my taxi and started talking a mile a minute," Shenson recalled. "I found myself in the middle of a scene from a Mary brothers movie. That was when I decided to make a comedy, not a pop musical."

After observing the Beatles at work and play, Shenson and writer Alan Owen settled on the device of a day in the life of the singing sensations. "A Hard Day's Night" was shot in eight weeks at a cost of a half-million dollars, which makes it a mighty fine investment.

Business has been sensational at matinees, but the film has had some difficulty attracting scream-shy adults. Shenson has proposed a late-night showing for adults only.

North glared at South and remarked: "If they ever have a contract tossing championship in the Olympic games, you should have no trouble qualifying as an American representative."

"What do you mean?" replied South. "I can't help it because suits never break when I am declarer."

South had won the opening club and returned the suit. West was back in the lead and saw that the only real future in the club suit was with South, so West shifted to the queen of spades. South ducked this in both hands, but West kept on with spades and eventually South lost two spades and three clubs.

South was correct that it was unlucky to run into that bad club break, but North was even more correct when he nominated South to represent his country in that contract throwing event.

If South had simply played the six of clubs instead of the ace, it is possible that West would have shifted to a spade. Possible, but not probable. West would note his partner's play of the eight spot and would have no way to know that it was a singleton. So West would have almost surely led a second club. From that point on South would have been a cinch because he would be able to establish his fifth club before the other side could do anything about the spade shift.

Happy Could Be Happier—Asks Custody

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller's wife, Margaretta, has filed suit to gain custody of her four children by a previous marriage.

Her divorced husband, Dr. James S. Murphy of New York City, has asked that the suit be dismissed, and that the couple's 4-year-old daughter, Melinda, be returned to him.

The legal papers, on file in State Supreme Court in this Westchester County seat, are the basis for a hearing scheduled today. It was considered likely that only the attorneys would appear and that the hearing would be in the judge's chambers.

The children, besides Melinda, are James B., 13, Margaretta, 11, and Carol, 8.

Attorneys for both parties have declined to detail what custody arrangements have prevailed since the Murphys' divorce in Idaho in April, 1963. The divorce papers were sealed by the court there.

Rockefeller and "Happy" Murphy were married the next month.

Khanh Scathed By Viet Students, Face Army Draft

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—About 200 students challenged Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's right to assume the presidency and accused the United States of intervening in South Vietnamese domestic affairs at a noisy rally in the Student Union headquarters today.

Khanh had broadcast a veiled threat that the youths stood a chance of being drafted into the army if they demonstrated against his government. Referring to the scheduled meeting, he said the students could control their own destinies, "which are being decided within a few hours."

He suggested the students continue their school work, but said if they wish "to participate in the struggle of the whole Vietnamese people, the armed forces will welcome them with open arms."

Evidently heeding that warning, the students stayed inside and did not demonstrate. Police kept the building under surveillance. The meeting was the first of a series scheduled this week and next that is expected later to include street marches.

Student leaders declared the ruling military council, in which Khanh moved up from premier to president Sunday, is not representative of the people.

Others declared that American officials instigated Khanh's election as president, in which he supplanted the popular Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh as chief of state.

Authorities were braced for possible anti-government demonstrations by Buddhists. As a precaution, they quietly dismantled a monument to the late President John F. Kennedy. The U.S. Embassy was reported to have concurred in this removal of a potential target for street mobs.

The concrete slab was removed Tuesday night from a main square in Saigon, where it had stood in front of the city's Roman Catholic cathedral.

To Seed Clouds As New Weapon In Nevada Fires

ELKO, Nev. (AP)—Fire fighters planned to resort to cloud seeding today in hopes of creating more rain to help them control huge fires which have blazed in northeast Nevada since Saturday.

Bureau of Land Management officials estimated that about 350,000 acres of valuable range land have been burned in the fire-stricken region, declared a disaster area by Gov. Grant Sawyer.

Showers late Tuesday helped contain two of the fires, but winds fanned the massive Boulder Flat-Maggie Creek blazes northwest of Elko through 15 miles of grass and brush in a few hours.

The Boulder Flat-Maggie Creek complex accounted for more than 180,000 acres of blackened range in an area 30 to 40 miles west and northwest of Elko.

Some lightning flashed Tuesday, but there were no reports of new fires. Nearly all the big blazes of the past five days were set by lightning.

Fire crews totaled about 2,000 men, many of them Indian professionals from throughout the West.

Breathing Tests Feature at Fair

"Do You Breathe—Properly?" This is the question and Respiratory Disease Committee of the Ulster County TB and Health Association is directing to all who see the Association's educational service display in the Education tent at the Ulster County Fair.

Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, committee chairman, noted in announcing the theme of the display.

"The greatly increased Respiratory Diseases along with still unquenched Tuberculosis, are the constant concern of the TB and Health Association in Ulster County," he added. "The Association's current program of work is concentrated on RD education and information for our Ulster County people. This year's unusual fair display will provide, in addition to that, RD Service through the demonstration and use of the Wright Peak Flow Meter."

Breathing capacity tests will be given all interested persons by use of the Wright Peak Flow Meter, a device used by physicians and hospitals for measuring breathing capacity. Dr. Schwartz pointed out, "A small but effective device is one of the important diagnostic tools used to aid medical men in the diagnosis of respiratory problems. Guests at the Association's RD booth, at their choice, will be briefly registered, and then will blow a full breath into the Peak Flow Meter. Based on the meter chart the breath capacity will be recorded and reported, at no cost, to the family physician. In any case, where breathing capacity is below the norm for age and height further diagnosis may be indicated. In this way future disability and suffering can be avoided. The meter tests will be given and recorded by Miss Almira Porter, R.N., and Miss Mabel Robinson, R.N., of the Association's volunteer program staff in TB and RD work."

"The latest, most effectively prepared informational and educational materials dealing with the Respiratory Diseases and all aspects of their known or suspected causes, their aggravation and treatment also will be available to our guests at the booth," E. Robert Johnson, Association's executive director, noted. "We urge everyone to stop and see us," he added. "By the time each one leaves our area he can have had a breathing test, outstanding educational literature to further his understanding of the increasingly severe RD health problem, and will have first hand knowledge of an important diagnostic aid, the Wright Peak Flow Meter."

The preparation of the Association's RD display was aided by Raphael Klein, director of Adult Education, Kingston Consolidated Schools; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hill and the Misses Porter and Robinson.

Those aiding in the services of the RD booth will be Mrs. William A. Porter and Mrs. Margaret R. Resseguie.

The theme and development of the Respiratory Disease booth presentation under the direction of Dr. Schwartz and Johnson was sponsored by the Association's RD Committee under Dr. Schwartz's chairmanship, and including as members, Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., Association president; Dr. Mortimer B.

Retired AP Man Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Morris Cleavenger, 59, a retired Associated Press newspaperman, was found dead in his apartment Tuesday night. He had been ill with a heart condition for years. Cleavenger retired in June 1960. A native of Hanover, Kan., he went to work for the AP in 1941 in Denver after having worked for the Rocky Mountain News there. He was transferred to Washington in 1944.

Lightning Damage To Gemini Pad Stalls Launching

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A series of lightning bolts which caused considerable damage on the Project Gemini launching pad apparently has erased any possibility of a two-man orbital flight this year.

Officials said the mishap probably means that astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young will have to wait until early 1965 to make the first tandem flight. They were to take a three-orbit, five-hour space ride in mid-December.

As an electrical storm swept over Cape Kennedy Monday night, several lightning bolts struck the Gemini launching complex. They damaged systems in a Titan 2 rocket on the pad and in the ground support equipment.

It was the first recorded incidence of lightning damage to a rocket in the 14-year history of the cape. All rocket gantries here are supposed to be lightning-proof.

The Titan 2 was being groomed to boost a fully equipped spacecraft, which was not on the pad, on a 2,000-mile ballistic flight to test all systems, the re-entry protective heat shield and recovery techniques.

The launching, the final unmanned shot before the Grissom-Young flight, had been scheduled for Oct. 6.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Tuesday, "The effect on the launch date is not known at this time. But some equipment replacement, launch complex reevaluation and systems retest will be required."

"The over-all effect of this condition may result in a delay of the first manned flight into next year," the agency said. A spokesman said the lightning caused no visible damage—that apparently all of it took the form of short-circuits and other electrical-type damage to delicate components.

Congolese Tells How Two Slain On Mercy Mission

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—An account of savagery and murder has been brought back by a Congolese driver who witnessed the death of two U.N. officials on a mercy mission to a Watutsi refugee camp.

The driver reported to U.N. authorities Tuesday that the two Frenchmen were hacked with machetes and hit with a burst of machinegun fire by a mob of Watutsi warriors and Congolese rebels.

As the crowd hurled itself on him, Jean Plique, 33, head of the Bukavu branch of the International Labor Organization, pleaded: "Gentlemen, we are here to help you and not for anything else."

A Congolese rebel then fired a dozen shots at Plique and his companion, Francois Preziosi, 43, Bukavu representative of the U.N. High Commission for Refugees.

Plique and Preziosi had gone to the encampment just north of Bukavu on Lake Kivu, the eastern Congo to free 120 refugees held by authorities and investigate reports of threatened reprisals against Watutsi refugees.

$1,000 for Poodle

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—It's costing exactly $1,000 for the return of a 4-year-old pedigree French poodle, Fifi, but Dr. Marianne Tahl says "she's worth it."

Henry, also a doctor, left their two French poodles in the care of a friend in Los Angeles, Calif., when they left to look for a permanent home in Evanston. On July 1 Fifi walked away.

Dr. Jacob R. Moss, Dr. Lewis M. Neporent, Dr. Milton M. Grover, Lawrence R. Deede, Victor M. Nippert, Miss Kathleen I. Shurter, RN, Miss Rose Marie Feeney, RN, and William C. Klein.

The industrial exhibits by local firms attracted considerable attention.

The Republican, Democratic and Conservative Parties each had an active booth.

Fair officials said there are some 3,000 exhibits and entries in the 4-H Club Department, and many more in the open class sections.

900 Displays

Superintendent Mrs. William E. Powers Sr. estimated that the number of Home Demonstration exhibits numbered about 900.

Ulster County 4-H Club Agent Carlton M. Conklin and his associate agent, Mrs. McLean F. Reynolds, reported entries numbered about 3,000. It was unofficially estimated that "upwards of 10,000" persons would attend the two-day free-admission event. There is no official estimate of the crowds because visitors enter the grounds through several areas.

Johnson Fortune Is $3.4 Million. Wife Has Most

WASHINGTON (AP)—An accounting firm hired at the direction of President Johnson reported today that the Johnson family fortune totals $3,481,098.

The firm of Haskins & Sells said the President and Mrs. Johnson and their two daughters, Lynda Bird and Luci Baines, had total assets of $3,481,098 as of July 31.

On the same date, the family had liabilities of $198,672, which reduced their net worth to $3,481,098.

$378,081 for LBJ

The accounting firm said President Johnson's assets amounted to $477,417 and his liabilities were $99,336.

The detailed statistical table made it evident that most of the Johnson wealth is held in the name of the First Lady, Mrs. Johnson's assets were said to total $2,225,634 with liabilities of $99,336.

This gave Mrs. Johnson a net worth of $2,126,298 compared with $378,081 for the chief executive.

Sisters Doing Okay

Lynda Bird Johnson's assets were put at $490,141. Those of her sister Luci Baines were given as $489,578.

The table listed no liabilities for either of the daughters.

During recent months, published estimates of the size of the Johnson fortune have ranged from about $4 million to $14 million.

It seemed apparent that much of this broad spread could be accounted for by using different methods to estimate the Johnson wealth.

J-A Story Says Ruby Was on Own In Dallas Killing

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Ruby, in purported secret testimony given to the Warren Commission, said it was strictly his own idea to kill Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

In a copyrighted story Tuesday by Journal-American columnist Dorothy Kilgallen, Ruby is quoted as having told Warren June 7:

"I became never malicious toward this person. No one else requested me to do anything. I never spoke to anyone about attempting to do anything. No subversive organization gave me any idea. No underworld persons made any effort to contact me. It all happened that Sunday morning."

The Dallas Times-Herald also published an article Tuesday that it said quoted the testimony. Some of the quotes were the same as those in the Journal-American.

The report of the commission, headed by U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren, is expected to be published in mid-September.

In a Washington dispatch today, the New York Times reported commission officials have expressed distrust concerning the Journal-American article which, on superficial examination, appeared to contain verbatim secret testimony.

The officials were not identified by the Times.

Ruby shot and killed Oswald in the basement of Dallas Police Headquarters last Nov. 24, two days after Kennedy was assassinated.

It became known less than a month later that the FBI, and state and city police had concluded that Oswald acted alone and that Ruby had no connection with the plan to assassinate Kennedy.

Miss Kilgallen said she obtained the actual transcript of Warren's interview with Ruby "from sources close to the Warren Commission in Washington."

The article was the first of three scheduled articles.

Ruby did not testify during his murder trial and his attorney, Melvin Belli, tried to prove him insane at the time the murder was committed.

The Journal-American quotes Ruby as telling Warren:

"Mr. Belli evidently did not go into my case thoroughly circumstantially. If he had gone into it, he wouldn't have tried to vindicate me on an insanity plea to relieve me of all responsibility, because circumstantially everything looks so bad for me. It can happen—it happens to many people who happen to be in the wrong place at the right time."

Chrysler Unveils Diversified Cars For '65 to Press

NEW YORK (AP)—Chrysler Corp. unveiled the most diversified line in its history today as it became the first auto maker to show its 1965 models to the press.

Lyons A. Townsend, Chrysler president, told newsmen at the opening of a four-day preview that Chrysler spent more than $300 million in developing its 130 models in nine series. This compared with $125 million spent in engineering and styling the 1964 line.

Townsend said much of Chrysler's emphasis had been focused on the great central price range—between compacts in the Valiant and Dodge price class on the one hand and so-called medium-price cars like the Dodge Custom 880 and Chrysler on the other.

The Chrysler president said: "At Chrysler, we are going to avoid at all costs the mistake of becoming known as a company that builds cars for the very young or only for the middle-aged and successful. We build cars for everybody."

The 45-year-old Townsend, who took over as Chrysler president in July 1961 and directed its comeback in the auto market, said Chrysler's share of the auto market rose to 13.9 per cent in the first six months of this year, its highest point in four years.

Tshombe to Expel Neighbor Citizens

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Moise Tshombe's government announced today all citizens of two neighboring nations who are in the Congo will be expelled on the ground their governments are aiding a Communist-backed rebellion among his people.

The nations are the Congo Republic (Brazzaville) on the north and the kingdom of Burundi on the east. A communiqué said the Brazzaville government is harboring Congolese responsible for massacres, pillage and destruction while Burundi is giving material and moral support to the rebels.

It was not known how many people would be affected. But several thousand residents of Brazzaville work in Leopoldville. Only the Congo River separates the two capitals. It's a 20-minute ferry run.

Happy Could Be Happier—Asks Custody To Seed Clouds In Nevada Fires

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller's wife, Margaretta, has filed suit to gain custody of her four children by a previous marriage.

Her divorced husband, Dr. James S. Murphy of New York City, has asked that the suit be dismissed, and that the couple's 4-year-old daughter, Melinda, be returned to him.

The legal papers, on file in State Supreme Court in this Westchester County seat, are the basis for a hearing scheduled today. It was considered likely that only the attorneys would appear and that the hearing would be in the judge's chambers.

The children, besides Melinda, are James B., 13, Margaretta, 11, and Carol, 8.

Attorneys for both parties have declined to detail what custody arrangements have prevailed since the Murphys' divorce in Idaho in April, 1963. The divorce papers were sealed by the court there.

Rockefeller and "Happy" Murphy were married the next month.

Khanh Seathed By Viet Students, Face Army Draft

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—About 200 students challenged Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's right to assume the presidency and accused the United States of intervening in South Vietnamese domestic affairs at a noisy rally in the Student Union headquarters today.

Khanh had broadcast a veiled threat that the youths stood a chance of being drafted into the army if they demonstrated against his government. Referring to the scheduled meeting, he said the students could control their own destinies, "which are being decided within a few hours."

He suggested the students continue their school work, but said if they wish "to participate in the struggle of the whole Vietnamese people, the armed forces will welcome them with open arms."

Evidently heeding that warning, the students stayed inside and did not demonstrate. Police kept the building under surveillance. The meeting was the first of a series scheduled this week and next that is expected later to include street marches.

Student leaders declared the ruling military council, in which Khanh moved up from premier to president Sunday, is not representative of the people.

Others declared that American officials instigated Khanh's election as president, in which he supplanted the popular Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh as chief of state.

Authorities were braced for possible anti-government demonstrations by Buddhists. As a precaution, they quietly dismantled a monument to the late President John F. Kennedy. The U.S. Embassy was reported to have concurred in this removal of a potential target for street mobs.

The concrete slab was removed Tuesday night from a main square in Saigon, where it had stood in front of the city's Roman Catholic cathedral.

To Seed Clouds As New Weapon In Nevada Fires

ELKO, Nev. (AP)—Fire fighters planned to resort to cloud seeding today in hopes of creating more rain to help them control huge fires which have blazed in northeast Nevada since Saturday.

Bureau of Land Management officials estimated that about 350,000 acres of valuable range land have been burned in the fire-stricken region, declared a disaster area by Gov. Grant Sawyer.

Showers late Tuesday helped contain two of the fires, but winds fanned the massive Boulder Flat-Maggie Creek blaze northwest of Elko through 15 miles of grass and brush in a few hours.

The Boulder Flat-Maggie Creek complex accounted for more than 180,000 acres of blackened range in an area 30 to 40 miles west and northwest of Elko.

Some lightning flashed Tuesday, but there were no reports of new fires. Nearly all the big blazes of the past five days were set by lightning.

Fire crews totaled about 2,000 men, many of them Indian professionals from throughout the West.

"Do You Breathe—Properly?"

This is the question and Respiratory Disease Committee of the Ulster County TB and Health Association is directing to all who see the Association's educational service display in the Education tent at the Ulster County Fair.

Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, committee chairman, noted in announcing the theme of the display.

"The greatly increased Respiratory Diseases along with still unquenched Tuberculosis, are the constant concern of the TB and Health Association in Ulster County," he added.

The Association's current program of work is concentrated on RD education and information for our Ulster County people. This year's unusual fair display will provide, in addition to that, RD Service through the demonstration and use of the Wright Peak Flow Meter.

Goes to Physician

Breathing capacity tests will be given all interested persons by use of the Wright Peak Flow Meter, a device used by physicians and hospitals for measuring breathing capacity. Dr. Schwartz pointed out. This small but effective device is one of the important diagnostic tools used to aid medical men in the diagnosis of respiratory problems.

Guests at the Association's booth, at their choice, will be briefly registered, and then will blow a full breath into the Peak Flow Meter. Based on the meter chart the breath capacity will be recorded and reported, at no cost, to the family physician. In any case, where breathing capacity is below the norm for age and height further diagnosis may be indicated. In this way future disability and suffering can be avoided. The meter tests will be given and reported by Miss Almira Porter, R.N., and Miss Mabel Robinson, R.N., of the Association's volunteer program staff in TB and RD work.

"The latest, most effectively prepared informational and educational materials dealing with the Respiratory Diseases and all aspects of their known or suspected causes, their aggravation and treatment also will be available to our guests at the booth," E. Robert Johnson, Association's executive director, noted. "We urge everyone to stop and see us." he added. "By the time each one leaves our area he can have had a breathing test, outstanding educational literature to further his understanding of the increasingly severe RD health problem, and will have first hand knowledge of an important diagnostic aid, the Wright Peak Flow Meter."

The preparation of the Association's RD display was aided by Raphael Klein, director of Adult Education, Kingston Consolidated Schools; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hill and the Misses Porter and Robinson.

Those aiding in the services of the RD booth will be Mrs. William A. Porter and Mrs. Margaret R. Resseguie.

The theme and development of the Respiratory Disease booth presentation under the direction of Dr. Schwartz and Johnson was sponsored by the Association's RD Committee under Dr. Schwartz's chairmanship, and including 25 members, Dr. Fredrick W. Holcomb Sr., Association president; Dr. Mortimer B.

Retired AP Man Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Morris Cleavenger, 59, a retired Associated Press newsman, was found dead in his apartment Tuesday night. He had been ill with a heart condition for years.

Cleavenger retired in June 1960. A native of Hanover, Kan., he went to work for the AP in 1941 in Denver after having worked for the Rocky Mountain News there. He was transferred to Washington in 1944.

Lightning Damage To Gemini Pad Stalls Launching

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A series of lightning bolts which caused considerable damage on the Project Gemini launching pad apparently has erased any possibility of a two-man orbital flight this year.

Officials said the mishap probably means that astronaut Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young will have to wait until early 1965 to make the first tandem flight. They were to take a three-orbit, five-hour space ride in mid-December.

As an electrical storm swept over Cape Kennedy Monday night, several lightning bolts struck the Gemini launching complex. They damaged systems in a Titan 2 rocket on the pad and in the ground support equipment.

It was the first recorded incidence of lightning damage to a rocket in the 14-year history of the cape. All rocket gantries here are supposed to be lightning-proof.

The Titan 2 was being groomed to boost a fully equipped spacecraft, which was not on the pad, on a 2,000-mile ballistic flight to test all systems, the re-entry protective heat shield and recovery techniques.

The launching, the final unmanned shot before the Grissom-Young flight, had been scheduled for Oct. 6.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Tuesday, "The effect on the launch date is not known at this time. But some equipment replacement, launch complex revalidation and systems retest will be required."

"The over-all effect of this condition may result in a delay of the first manned flight into next year," the agency said.

A spokesman said the lightning caused no visible damage—that apparently all of it took the form of short-circuits and other electrical-type damage to delicate components.

Congolese Tells How Two Slain On Mercy Mission

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—An account of savagery and murder has been brought back by a Congolese driver who witnessed the death of two U.N. officials on a mercy mission to a Watutsi refugee camp.

The driver reported to U.N. authorities Tuesday that the two Frenchmen were hacked with machetes and hit with a burst of machinegun fire by a mob of Watutsi warriors and Congolese rebels.

As the crowd hurled itself on him, Jean Plique, 33, head of the Bukavu branch of the International Labor Organization, pleaded: "Gentlemen, we are here to help you and not for anything else."

A Congolese rebel then fired a dozen shots at Plique and his companion, Francois Preziosi, 43, Bukavu representative of the U.N. High Commission for Refugees.

Plique and Preziosi had gone to the encampment just north of Bukavu on Lake Kivu in the eastern Congo to free 120 refugees held by authorities and investigate reports of threatened reprisals against Watutsi refugees.

Johnson Fortune Is $3.4 Million. Wife Has Most

WASHINGTON (AP)—An accounting firm hired at the direction of President Johnson reported today that the Johnson family fortune totals $3,481,098.

The firm of Haskins & Sells said the President and Mrs. Johnson and their two daughters, Lynda Bird and Luci Baines, had total assets of $3,682,770 as of July 31.

On the same date, the family had liabilities of $198,672, which reduced their net worth to $3,484,098.

$378,081 for LBJ

The accounting firm said President Johnson's assets amounted to $477,417 and his liabilities were $99,336.

The detailed statistical table made it evident that most of the Johnson wealth is held in the name of the First Lady. Mrs. Johnson's assets were said to total $2,225,634 with liabilities of $99,336.

This gave Mrs. Johnson a net worth of $2,126,298 compared with $378,081 for the chief executive.

Sisters Doing Okay

Lynda Bird Johnson's assets were put at $490,141. Those of her sister Luci Baines were given as $489,578.

The table listed no liabilities for either of the daughters.

During recent months, published estimates of the size of the Johnson fortune have ranged from about $4 million to $14 million.

It seemed apparent that much of this broad spread could be accounted for by using different methods to estimate the Johnson wealth.

Vegetable judging was scheduled to start at 12 noon. The Ken-L-Ration dog show was on the card for 2 p. m. on the tennis court. Sheep judging was slated for 3:30 p. m. and the dairy and livestock parade time is 6:30 to 7 p. m. A dress review will start at 7:15 p. m.

Thursday's schedule will open at 9 a. m. with the 4-H horse show and open class horse show. The 4-H milk booth will open at that hour, and the 4-H food bake sale will continue. The 4-H tractor operation contest is slated for 10 a. m. tomorrow; 4-H dairy cattle judging contest will be held.

At 3 p. m. tomorrow there will be a 4-H vegetable sale, and at 4 p. m. all exhibits will be released.

Other Booths Listed

Other area units that have booths are—the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary, League of Women Voters, Ulster County TB Hospital and the Chronic Disease Infirmary, Ulster County Association for Mental Health, the county unit of the National Association for Retarded Children, the WSCS of the Samsonville Methodist Church and the Ulster County Community College.

The industrial exhibits by local firms attracted considerable attention.

The Republican, Democratic and Conservative Parties each had an active booth.

Fair officials said there are some 3,000 exhibits and entries in the 4-H Club Department, and many more in the open class sections.

900 Displays

Superintendent Mrs. William E. Powers Sr. estimated that the number of Home Demonstration exhibits numbered about 900.

Ulster County 4-H Club Agent Carlton M. Conklin and his associate agent, Mrs. McLean F. Reynolds, reported entries numbered about 3,000.

It was unofficially estimated that "upwards of 10,000" persons would attend the two-day free-admission event. There is no official estimate of the crowds because visitors enter the grounds through several areas.

J-A Story Says Ruby Was on Own In Dallas Killing

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Ruby, in purported secret testimony given to the Warren Commission, said it was strictly his own idea to kill Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

In a copyrighted story Tuesday by Journal-American columnist Dorothy Kilgallen, Ruby is quoted as having told Warren Justice 7.

"I was never malicious toward this person. No one else requested me to do anything. I never spoke to anyone about attempting to do anything. No subversive organization gave me any idea. No underworld persons made any effort to contact me. It all happened that Sunday morning."

The Dallas Times-Herald also published an article Tuesday that it said quoted the testimony. Some of the quotes were the same as those in the Journal-American.

The report of the commission, headed by U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren, is expected to be published in mid-September.

In a Washington dispatch today, the New York Times reported commission officials have expressed distress concerning the Journal-American article which, on superficial examination, appeared to contain verbatim secret testimony.

The officials were not identified by the Times.

Ruby shot and killed Oswald in the basement of Dallas Police Headquarters last Nov. 24, two days after Kennedy was assassinated.

It became known less than a month later that the FBI and state and city police had concluded that Oswald acted alone and that Ruby had no connection with the plan to assassinate Kennedy.

Miss Kilgallen said she obtained a letter transcript of Warren's interview with Ruby "from sources close to the Warren Commission in Washington." The article was the first of three scheduled articles.

Ruby did not testify during his murder trial and his attorney, Melvin Belli, tried to prove him insane at the time the murder was committed.

The Journal-American quotes Ruby as telling Warren: "Mr. Belli evidently did not go into my case thoroughly circumstantially. If he had gone into it, he wouldn't have tried to vindicate me on an insanity plea to relieve me of all responsibility, because circumstantially everything looks so bad for me. It can happen—it happens to many people who happen to be in the wrong place at the right time."

Chrysler Unveils Diversified Cars For '65 to Press

NEW YORK (AP)—Chrysler Corp. unveiled the most diversified line in its history today as it became the first auto maker to show its 1965 models to the press.

Lynn A. Townsend, Chrysler president, told newsmen at the opening of a four-day preview that Chrysler spent more than $300 million in developing its 130 models in nine series. This compared with $125 million spent in engineering and styling the 1964 line.

Townsend said much of Chrysler's emphasis has been focused on the "great central price range—between compacts in the Valiant and Dodge price class on the one hand and so-called medium-price cars like the Dodge Custom 880 and Chrysler on the other."

The Chrysler president said: "At Chrysler, we are going to avoid at all costs the mistake of becoming known as a company that builds cars for the very young or only for the middle-aged and successful. We build cars for everybody."

The 45-year-old Townsend, who took over as Chrysler president in July 1961 and directed its comeback in the auto market, said Chrysler's share of the auto market rose to 13.9 percent in the first six months of this year, its highest point in four years.

Tshombe to Expel Neighbor Citizens

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Moïse Tshombe's government announced today all citizens of two neighboring nations who are in the Congo will be expelled on the ground their governments are aiding a Communist-backed rebellion among his people.

The nations are the Congo Republic (Brazzaville) on the north and the kingdom of Burundi on the east. A communique said the Brazzaville government is harboring Congolese responsible for massacres, pillage and destruction while Burundi is giving material and moral support to the rebels.

It was not known how many people would be affected. But several thousand residents of Brazzaville work in Leopoldville. Only the Congo River separates the two capitals. It's a 20-minute ferry run.

The House gave the bill final congressional approval Tuesday on a voice vote.

The money was authorized in connection with construction of a dam and reservoir on the Allegheny River in Pennsylvania and New York. The reservoir will flood much of the Seneca's Allegany Reservation, one of three owned by the Indians in western New York.

Gates of the dam at Kinzua, Pa., are scheduled to be closed by the Army Corps of Engineers in October to back up a reservoir almost to Salamanca, N.Y.

NEW UNIFORM? — Visitors to London's Clarence House are startled when they see guards decked out in ordinary khaki uniforms (left) rather than the regal red tunic and fur busby (right). But it seems the Royal Guards in the red coats are on overseas duty, so other soldiers must take over sentry duty.

Probe Is Extended In Bribe Plot to Get Race License

NEW YORK (AP)—The district attorney's office is investigating the possibility that more than one highly placed Republican state official was involved in a $100,000 bribe plot to obtain a license for an Upstate race track, the New York Times reported today.

The newspaper quoted an informed source as saying that one official had accepted the bribe and then turned it back when "things got too hot and he started to worry."

The investigation so far has led to the indictment of Morris Gold, Republican leader of the Town of Fallsburgh, Sullivan County, on perjury charges in the purported bribery scheme.

The district attorney's office said at the time of the indictment that the money was to have gone to an unidentified state official to insure the granting of a license to the Finger Lakes Racing Association to conduct races on a flat track near Canandaigua, N.Y.

Gold is accused of lying to a grand jury when he denied that at three meetings in 1959 he had discussed the scheme.

Girl Diabetic Is Found After Nine Hours in Forest

TUPPER LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—A candy bar handed her by a burly rescuer was a welcome sight to Linda Senarins, a 15-year-old diabetic feared to be in grave danger after becoming lost in the Adirondack wilderness.

The girl, from Sea Cliff, Long Island, was found by five forest rangers Tuesday night, about nine hours after she was reported missing in the Coreys area, east of this resort community.

She ate some candy bars brought by the searchers and walked out of the woods with them.

Troopers Feared Coma
Troopers had been concerned that the girl had lapsed into a diabetic coma because of missing a scheduled meal.

She was conscious when found in the woods at 10 p.m., about three miles from the point where she had set out alone on a walk. She was supposed to have eaten at 3 p.m.

Linda had been staying at a tourist lodge at Coreys with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Senarins, and two younger brothers.

Troopers said that, because of her diabetic condition, it was vital that the girl eat at specified intervals to maintain a safe level of blood sugar. If she had drunk water, they said, her condition would have worsened.

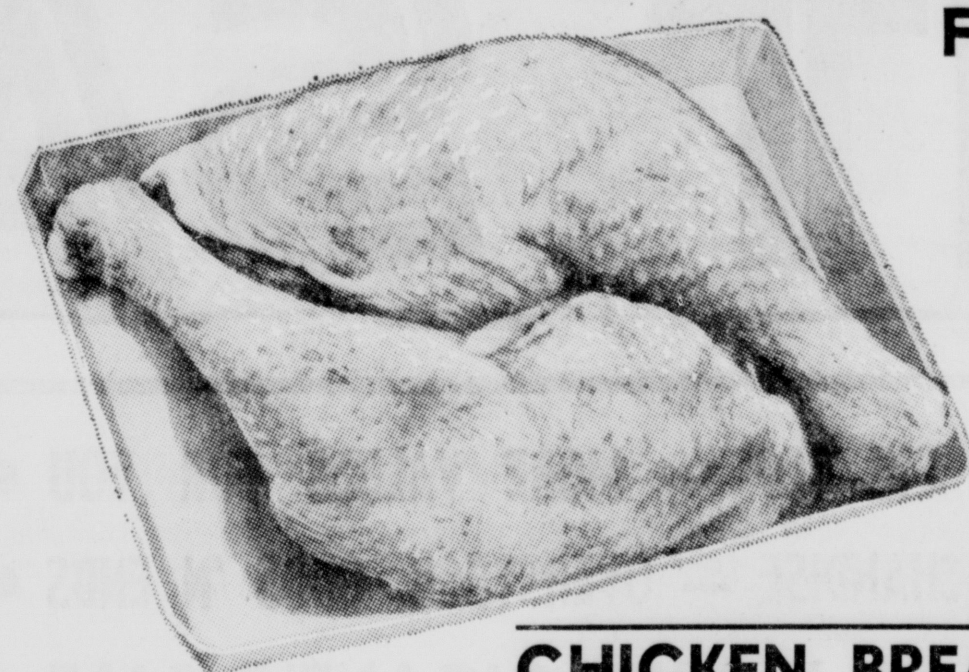

About 150 volunteer firemen and conservation workers joined troopers and rangers in the hunt. A small plane was used, and bloodhounds were brought in from the State Police barracks at Malone.

NEW UNIFORM? — Visitors to London's Clarence House are startled when they see guards decked out in ordinary khaki uniforms (left) rather than the regal red tunic and fur busby (right). But it seems the Royal Guards in the red coats are on overseas duty, so other soldiers must take over sentry duty.

Probe Is Extended In Bribe Plot to Get Race License

NEW YORK (AP)—The district attorney's office is investigating the possibility that more than one highly placed Republican state official was involved in a $100,000 bribe plot to obtain a license for an Upstate race track, the New York Times reported today.

The newspaper quoted an informed source as saying that one official had accepted the bribe and then turned it back when "things got too hot and he started to worry."

The investigation so far has led to the indictment of Morris Gold, Republican leader of the Town of Fallsburgh, Sullivan County, on perjury charges in the purported bribery scheme.

The district attorney's office said at the time of the indictment that the money was to have gone to an unidentified state official to insure the granting of a license to the Finger Lakes Racing Association to conduct races on a flat track near Canandaigua, N.Y.

Gold is accused of lying to a grand jury when he denied that at three meetings in 1959 he had discussed the scheme.

Girl Diabetic Is Found After Nine Hours in Forest

TUPPER LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—A candy bar handed her by a burly rescuer was a welcome sight to Linda Senarins, a 15-year-old diabetic feared to be in grave danger after becoming lost in the Adirondack wilderness.

The girl, from Sea Cliff, Long Island, was found by five forest rangers Tuesday night, about nine hours after she was reported missing in the Coreys area, east of this resort community.

She ate some candy bars brought by the searchers and walked out of the woods with them.

Troopers Feared Coma
Troopers had been concerned that the girl had lapsed into a diabetic coma because of missing a scheduled meal.

She was conscious when found in the woods at 10 p.m., about three miles from the point where she had set out alone on a walk. She was supposed to have eaten at 3 p.m.

Linda had been staying at a tourist lodge at Coreys with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Senarins, and two younger brothers.

Troopers said that, because of her diabetic condition, it was vital that the girl eat at specified intervals to maintain a safe level of blood sugar. If she had drunk water, they said, her condition would have worsened.

About 150 volunteer firemen and conservation workers joined troopers and rangers in the hunt. A small plane was used, and bloodhounds were brought in from the State Police barracks at Malone.

Caution Advised During Harvest

To farmers, harvest time means hopes for plenty but to the Red Cross safety experts it also means greater danger of farm accidents.

Agriculture ranks as the third most dangerous occupation in the country, according to the National Safety Council. Exceeded only by mining and quarrying and the construction trades, it annually claims 8,700 lives and causes 800,000 disabling accidents.

"These statistics point up the need for farm families to receive training in first aid," said Daniel Morehouse, director of the Safety Services for the Ulster County Red Cross Chapter. Accidents on the farm usually occur at considerable distance from hospitals and professional medical help, he pointed out. In many cases, proper treatment within seconds is essential if the victim is to be saved.

Techniques such as artificial respiration, controlling bleeding and splinting fractured limbs are taught in Red Cross first aid courses.

Morehouse also noted that drowning in farm ponds continue to be a leading cause of death on farms. "The best protection against such accidents is knowing how to swim," he emphasized, pointing out that the Red Cross also offers free courses in swimming, lifesaving and boating.

He also recommended that farmers install a "Safety Post" beside farm ponds or swimming pools. A four-by-four inch upright with a reaching pole (a bamboo fishing pole will do) and a ring buoy or an inflated tire fastened to a line of rope are all that is needed to set up this device. Local granges, Future Farmers, 4-H Clubs and other rural groups may arrange for first aid courses through the Ulster County Red Cross Chapter, 308 Clinton Avenue, Morehouse said.

matter of fact

The term bootlegging came into general use in the Midwest in the 1880s. In states where whisky was illegal many people carried flasks concealed in boot tops. It became common in the U.S. vocabulary during the era of national prohibition in the 1920s.

Final plans were made for the booth to be entered at the County Fair to be held this week at Forsyth Park. Two new members, Diane and Robert Campbell, were welcomed into the Grange at this meeting. A short program was presented by the Lecturer, George Mollenhauer. The next meeting will be held on Aug. 24 and all members are asked to be present.

Platkill Grange

Gronouski to Speak At Orange Festival

Postmaster General John Austin Gronouski has accepted an invitation to speak at the 1964 Orange County Union Harvest Festival, to be held Sunday, Sept. 6, in an amphitheatre called The Onion Bowl in the hamlet of Pine Island.

Like the families who for 75 years have been clearing the virgin soil and farming the fabulously rich muckland in South-eastern New York, Gronouski has Polish ancestry. He is a native of Dunbar, Wisc., and a former educator in economics and public finance. Thirty thousand were expected for the Sunday afternoon program before the Gronouski announcement was made. More now are expected to avail themselves of opportunity to hear and possibly meet a cabinet officer of unique record. Festival officials have been informed of busloads coming from as far away as Pittsburgh.

Gronouski is said to be the only individual of Polish descent to achieve cabinet rank. He is believed also to be the only cabinet member to hold an earned Ph.D. degree. People of similar background particularly are proud of his record of economy and efficiency since his appointment by the late President John F. Kennedy just short of a year ago. The Zip Code, ABCD, and NIMS for improved mail delivery are among innovations credited to Gronouski.

The Sunday pageant, Old World Polish in character, has top rating for authenticity and beauty. It starts at 3 p. m., and there is no charge for attendance.

Caution Advised During Harvest

To farmers, harvest time means hopes for plenty but to the Red Cross safety experts it also means greater danger of farm accidents.

Agriculture ranks as the third most dangerous occupation in the country, according to the National Safety Council. Exceeded only by mining and quarrying and the construction trades, it annually claims 8,700 lives and causes 800,000 disabling accidents.

"These statistics point up the need for farm families to receive training in first aid," said Daniel Morehouse, director of the Safety Services for the Ulster County Red Cross Chapter. Accidents on the farm usually occur at considerable distance from hospitals and professional medical help, he pointed out. In many cases, proper treatment within seconds is essential if the victim is to be saved.

Techniques such as artificial respiration, controlling bleeding and splinting fractured limbs are taught in Red Cross first aid courses.

Morehouse also noted that drowning in farm ponds continue to be a leading cause of death on farms. "The best protection against such accidents is knowing how to swim," he emphasized, pointing out that the Red Cross also offers free courses in swimming, lifesaving and boating.

He also recommended that farmers install a "Safety Post" beside farm ponds or swimming pools. A four-by-four inch upright with a reaching pole (a bamboo fishing pole will do) and a ring buoy or an inflated tire fastened to a line of rope are all that is needed to set up this device. Local granges, Future Farmers, 4-H Clubs and other rural groups may arrange for first aid courses through the Ulster County Red Cross Chapter, 308 Clinton Avenue, Morehouse said.

matter of fact

The term bootlegging came into general use in the Midwest in the 1880s. In states where whisky was illegal many people carried flasks concealed in boot tops. It became common in the U.S. vocabulary during the era of national prohibition in the 1920s.

Gronouski to Speak At Orange Festival

Postmaster General John Austin Gronouski has accepted an invitation to speak at the 1964 Orange County Union Harvest Festival, to be held Sunday, Sept. 6, in an amphitheatre called The Onion Bowl in the hamlet of Pine Island.

Like the families who for 75 years have been clearing the virgin soil and farming the fabulously rich muckland in South-eastern New York, Gronouski has Polish ancestry. He is a native of Dunbar, Wisc., and a former educator dealing in economics and public finance. Thirty thousand were expected for the Sunday afternoon program before the Gronouski announcement was made. More now are expected to avail themselves of opportunity to hear and possibly meet a cabinet officer of unique record. Festival officials have been informed of busloads coming from as far away as Pittsburgh.

Gronouski is said to be the only individual of Polish descent to achieve cabinet rank. He is believed also to be the only cabinet member to hold an earned Ph.D. degree. People of similar background particularly are proud of his record of economy and efficiency since his appointment by the late President John F. Kennedy just short of a year ago. The Zip Code, ABCD, and NIMS for improved mail delivery are among innovations credited to Gronouski.

The Sunday pageant, Old World Polish in character, has top rating for authenticity and beauty. It starts at 3 p. m., and there is no charge for attendance.

Tension Eases In Chi Suburb

DIXMOOR, Ill. (AP) — Tension in this racially troubled community eased this morning after a night relatively free of violence.

The hope was that the rioting that began Sunday had run its course.

It had resulted in about 50 persons injured, heavy property damage and 70 persons arrested in the six-block area in the largely Negro suburbs of Dixmoor and Harvey south of Chicago.

The only incident Tuesday night was a fire at a golf course club house near the trouble center.

"It looks like arson," said

Fire Chief Edward Mulder of Harvey.

Although three Negro youths were seen near the club house shortly before the fire, officials declined to speculate on any connection with the racial trouble.

Helen Krol, daughter of the owner of Dixie Hi golf course, said both whites and Negroes use the course and that it has had no racial trouble.

Price Correction

In the Bob Steele's advertisement appearing in Tuesday's Freeman the price of spiral top or side assignment pads was incorrectly listed as 15 cents. The correct price is 5 cents.

Divers Give AssistBoy, 15, Battles
370-Lb. Sting Ray
Over 18-Hr. Span

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Bolstered by a ham sandwich, weary 15-year-old Tom Joyner Jr., battled a 370-pound sting ray for 18 hours.

He finally got it to shore, but with the help of divers.

"I don't care," Tom said. "I got him anyway."

He never let go of the line from 6:45 p.m. Monday until 1:30 p.m. Tuesday when two divers ran an oar through the ray's gills and helped Tom haul him to the beach with a boat.

A huge crowd, part of the thousands who came by during the day, had gathered.

Tom wouldn't leave the 600-foot-long Patrick Air Force Base pier after he hooked into the ray, a round, flat-bodied creature with a whip-like tail capable of inflicting severe wounds.

Through the night, his father and friends fed him coffee. When morning and the hot Florida sun came, Tom switched to soft drinks.

His father sprayed the reel with water but it still burned Tom's hands through his heavy gloves.

Just before noon, Tom ate a ham sandwich — his only food during the battle. He was never able to bring the ray closer than 200 yards, and he decided to go after it in a boat when it played out 300 yards of his 400-yard, 98-pound test line.

Tom's battle wasn't the first at the pier. Last July, Mike Douglas, 15, battled a giant jewfish for 33 hours before losing it. Also last July, Tom landed a 310-pound shark, a record for the pier.

In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — With four U.S. sentry satellites orbiting the earth it is no longer possible for a nuclear explosion in space to go undetected, a Defense Department expert reports.

"If the Russians fired anything we would know about it," Dr. R. L. Sproull, director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, told a National Space Club luncheon Tuesday.

The two U.S. satellites launched a month ago 65,000 miles above the earth and two similar satellites put into orbit last October are capable of detecting nuclear detonation more than 200 million miles out in space.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved a tax settlement by which the government would acquire the Tarrytown, N.Y. mansion of railroad magnate Jay Gould and open it to the public.

It would also save the estate of Gould's daughter, Anna, Duchess de Talleyrand, about $700,000. She died in Paris in 1961.

Under the settlement the house would be transferred to the National Trust and be deductible as a charitable contribution from the estate valued at $1.3 million.

The legislation, sponsored by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., as an amendment to a minor tax bill, was returned to the House for consideration of the changes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kathryn O'Hay Granahan, the U.S. treasurer, broke her knee and elbow Tuesday in a fall at a radio station.

The former Pennsylvania congresswoman, widow of Rep. William Thomas Granahan, D-Pa., was reported to be in satisfactory condition.

Divers Give Assist

370-Lb. Sting Ray
Over 18-Hr. Span

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Bolstered by a ham sandwich, weary 15-year-old Tom Joyner Jr., battled a 370-pound sting ray for 18 hours.

He finally got it to shore, but with the help of divers.

"I don't care," Tom said. "I got him anyway."

He never let go of the line from 6:45 p.m. Monday until 1:30 p.m. Tuesday when two divers ran an oar through the ray's gills and helped Tom haul him to the beach with a boat.

A huge crowd, part of the thousands who came by during the day, had gathered.

Tom wouldn't leave the 600-foot-long Patrick Air Force Base pier after he hooked into the ray, a round, flat-bodied creature with a whip-like tail capable of inflicting severe wounds.

Through the night, his father and friends fed him coffee. When morning and the hot Florida sun came, Tom switched to soft drinks.

His father sprayed the reel with water but it still burned Tom's hands through his heavy gloves.

Just before noon, Tom ate a ham sandwich — his only food during the battle. He was never able to bring the ray closer than 200 yards, and he decided to go after it in a boat when it played out 300 yards of his 400-yard, 98-pound test line.

Old Cellmate Says Slaying of Couple Admitted to Him

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Herbert L. Shockey's former cellmate has told a court that Shockey admitted the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. John Bertella to him while they were in the same county jail.

Robert W. Hartford, 24, also testified Tuesday that Shockey told him that Theresa Robichaud, 18, of Fresno, Calif., stabbed Mrs. Bertella after Shockey shot her husband.

Bertella, 62, and his wife, Mildred, 64, of Sherill, N.Y., were killed Feb. 23 as they camped in the desert at the foot of the Superstition Mountains, about 40 miles east of here.

Shockey, a 30-year-old ex-convict, is accused of first degree murder in their deaths. His trial is in its second week.

Shockey and Miss Robichaud were captured March 21 near Austin, Nev., in a truck owned by the Bertellas. Maricopa County Sheriff L. C. (Cal) Boies reported at the time that Shockey had admitted the slayings but did not implicate the girl.

Murder charges against the girl were dropped May 13 for lack of evidence.

Hartford, now serving 10-12 years in the Arizona State Prison for robbery, was in the same cell with Shockey March 26-27.

Crushed by Tractor

JORDAN, N.Y. (AP)—Harry Markell, 67, a farmer, was killed Tuesday when his tractor overturned and crushed him on his farm in this Onondaga County community.

Too Much for Hog

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A 680-pound hog won two prizes at the Illinois State Fair, but the strain of competition apparently was too much. It suffered a heart attack.

The hog, owned by Alvin Lehmann of Pleasant Plains, Ill., suffered the attack in its pen Tuesday.

Wheeler Refuses Reelection Bid, Assails Apathy

Lack of cooperation and business reasons are the major factors in a decision reached by Mayor Samuel T. Wheeler of Hudson not to seek reelection this year.

Wheeler, who carried every district in the city election in 1961 and 1963, said, "When I talk about cooperation, I mean everybody. The apathy and disinterest in Hudson is remarkable. Everyone has the attitude someone else will get things done. It's a shame."

The Hudson mayor said that it is his hope that next November, both parties will have high caliber men running for office. "This," he said, "is the only salvation for our area."

Wheeler has been at odds with the Common Council on several issues, but he didn't list specific individuals or groups he felt were not cooperating.

It is believed that the ancestors of the Tuaregs of African western deserts and mountain villages originally wandered from Egypt.

Hundreds Routed As Weed Killer Explodes Tuesday

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Hundreds of persons were routed from their homes by noxious fumes Tuesday night after a 55-gallon drum of underwater weed killer exploded at a chemical plant.

More than 100 persons were treated at hospital emergency rooms for eye and nose irritations, cramps and nausea.

Traffic Jams Hurt
The fumes, from a chemical called acrolein, billowed from open doors and windows into the heavily populated, mostly Negro neighborhood. Mass traffic jams caused by curious onlookers hampered firemen and police trying to reach the area in gas masks.

"First you choke, then you get abdominal cramps and nausea," said Vernon Barchard, photographer for the Tampa Tribune. "I vomited 15 minutes."

Police Capt. L. J. Buchanan and fireman Lionel Hernandez, were hospitalized for observation.

Not Poisonous, He Says
Herbert Friedman, president of Southern Mill Creek Chemical Co., where the explosion occurred, said the chemical fumes were not poisonous.

Friedman said he was in the plant office when he heard an explosion about 8 p.m. He said the chemical apparently built up pressure inside the container, blowing off the top and spewing snowflake-size powder over a store room.

Firemen, wearing gas masks and rubber suits, entered the four-story building to cap the drum. Many were overcome when fumes seeped through loose masks.

Johnson Rejects Johnson

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Gov. Paul B. Johnson has turned down an invitation from President Johnson to meet with other Democratic governors.

Johnson said Tuesday he had no intention of attending the Democratic National Convention and that he would not meet with the President at the White House Saturday.

Louisiana Gov. John McKeithen and Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus also said they would not attend the White House meeting or the convention.

The three governors were among five Democratic state chief executives who held a secret strategy meeting in New Orleans last Friday. The others were Florida Gov. Farris Bryant and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Six Killed, 3 Hurt as Auto Goes Over Barrier

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP) — A convertible shot over a 20-inch-high metal barrier near the Ohio gateway to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Tuesday night and slammed head-on into a station wagon, killing six persons and seriously injuring three others.

A truck driver directing traffic around the wreckage was also injured when he was hit by a car.

A spokesman for the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission said the dead were:

Jerry Tinsley, 18, of Cleveland, driver of the convertible, and these passengers in Tinsley's car:

Farnell Lewis Davis, 17, Morris D. Laniel, 18, Robert Carl Price, 18, all of Cleveland, and Isaac Reznick, 50, of Brooklyn, N. Y., another passenger, Kenneth Francis, 15, also of Cleveland, was listed in serious condition at Providence Hospital in Beaver Falls.

The sixth victim was Frank Heinz, 26, of Center, N. D., the driver of the station wagon. His wife, Lenore, 24, was listed in serious condition at the hospital. Their daughter, Kyle, 3, was transferred from Providence Hospital to Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh where she is listed in serious condition.

The truck driver, James Hilbert, 45, of (326 E. Pine St.) Selinsgrove, Pa., was admitted to Providence Hospital. He was listed in fair condition.

Johnson to Bare Family Finances

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today that a full accounting of the financial position of President Johnson and his family would be made public today.

George E. Reedy, White House press secretary, said the accounting firm of Haskins and Sells would make an accounting of all family finances since January 1954.

Haskins and Sells, one of the largest firms of certified public accountants in the nation, began its study of the family's financial position "early in July," Reedy said.

He said Johnson "directed that this be done."

The press secretary declined to say why Johnson felt such a study was necessary.

The White House project, however, follows publication of various estimates of Johnson family wealth, ranging from $4 million to $14 million.

Fino Challenges Keating, Refusal Same as GOP Bolt

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Paul A. Fino, Bronx County Republican chairman, has challenged Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester for the GOP nomination to the U.S. Senate.

Fino says Keating, who formally announced for a second term Tuesday, "cannot and should not" ask for renomination as long as he continues to withhold endorsement of presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Could Mean Floor Fight
Until Fino declared his candidacy in a statement in Washington, Keating had been expected to win unanimous nomination at the Republican State Committee meeting here Aug. 31.

Fino's move raised the possibility of a floor fight at the meeting, but nomination of Keating appeared certain. Keating's announcement was favorable reaction among party leaders, including Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, State Chairman Fred A. Young and Sen. Jacob K. Javits.

Fino said "Keating's failure and refusal to support the national ticket is tantamount to bolting the Republican party."

Fino declined to estimate how many of the 300 members of the Republican State Committee might support him. He said, however, that he expected backing by two congressmen from Nassau County on Long Island — Frank J. Becker and Steven B. Derouin.

Later, Becker issued a statement in Washington saying he could not support Keating because of the senator's failure to endorse Goldwater and his vice presidential running mate, Rep. William E. Miller of New York.

Notes Differences
Miller said Tuesday that Keating's announcement that he would campaign independently of the national ticket would not win him support. He said, "I hope you will support me, but I don't want to support Keating."

Keating, in announcing his candidacy at a news conference, spoke of "deep differences" between him and Goldwater.

Questioned by reporters, however, Keating said: "I hope very much that I can support the national ticket. I've always left the door open and it's still open. I simply do not know what the future may hold."

Mrs. Luce Still Possibility
A major threat to Keating's chances in the general election is the possibility that Clare Boothe Luce, a staunch Goldwater supporter, will run for the Senate as the Conservative party candidate.

Keating conceded that Mrs. Luce would draw votes that otherwise might go to him.

Mrs. Luce — playwright, former Republican congresswoman from Connecticut, ambassador to Italy during the Eisenhower administration and wife of publisher Henry R. Luce — said Tuesday she would have to give more consideration to the Conservative party invitation to run.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy is reported to have more than enough delegate votes to win the Democratic Senate nomination at the party's state convention here on Sept. 1.

'Olympic' . . .

ers probably will see very little of it. However, Canadian and European broadcasters plan to make extensive use of the film after speeding it by microwave and by jet plane from the California reception point to Montreal and Hamburg, Germany.

NBC Arrangements

The National Broadcasting Co. purchased exclusive U.S. territorial rights to Olympic telecasts and plans to use mostly film flown from Tokyo, because most of the action will occur while Americans are asleep, only the opening ceremonies on Oct. 10 are planned to be televised live via Syncom 3.

Under the NBC contract, other U.S. broadcasting interests will be allotted 9 minutes a day — in 3-minute segments — for showing Olympic film. Some of this may be relayed by Syncom 3.

Syncom 3's primary purpose is to further determine the feasibility of using high-altitude synchronous satellites as space communications stations. Telephone, television, radio, teletype and picture transmission experiments are planned.

Only three such satellites, equally spaced around the equator, would provide worldwide communications coverage. From its high outpost, Syncom 3 could serve as a relay point between wide areas of North America and Asia, covering more than a third of the globe.

To dramatize space communications, U.S. and Japanese interests have committed about $600,000 to prepare facilities to televise the Oct. 10-24 Olympic Games from Tokyo to the United States.

Canadian and European broadcasting companies plan to invest nearly $300,000 to speed the transmissions to their viewers.

The U.S. Communications Satellite Corp., created by Congress to develop a commercial communications satellite system, said it was directing the Olympic TV project on a non-profit basis in compliance with a State Department finding that "it would be in the national interest."

MRS. MARGARET BIXBY

Manager Named Of Nugent Store, Opening Thursday

The manager of the new, modern Nugent store, opening Thursday morning at the Kingston Shopping Plaza, is Mrs. Margaret Bixby of Framingham, Mass.

Mayor John J. Schwenk will officiate at the ribbon-cutting ceremony at 10 a. m.

Nugent's came to Kingston a quarter of a century ago, establishing a store on North Front Street. After several years at this location, the firm moved to the North side of Wall Street, and then later moved to the present location at 317 Wall Street. The building at 317 Wall Street was sold to Yal-lum's some time ago, and it was recently announced that Nugent's would move to the Plaza location.

The recently completed store in the shopping plaza "affords a new fashion approach unique in Kingston's history," according to Manager Bixby. The store has "a casual look from its wood and brick front to its more formal dress and coat salon in the rear."

A complete line of junior, misses and women's ready-to-wear, sportswear, intimate apparel and accessories will be featured in the new Nugent's.

During the opening event, Nugent's will have Miss Francis Zecker and Miss Thelma Frongillo, sportswear and dress fashion consultants, available at the new store.

Emphasis will be placed upon customer relations, according to Mrs. Bixby. "Customers will be welcome to come in and browse around as much as they desire," she said, and indicated that it was not the policy of the store to "high pressure customers but to treat them in a most friendly and courteous manner."

Miller Advocates Firm Policy in Communist Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller of Niagara County, making his first campaign appearance in New York since his Republican nomination for vice president, called Tuesday night for "firmness" in dealing with Communist countries.

He also criticized Democratic handling of foreign aid and overseas information policies. Miller addressed 100 Polish-American organization leaders at a session of the American Council of Polish Cultural Clubs.

Miller's wife, Stephanie, who was introduced at the meeting as "a girl from Buffalo, of Polish extraction," made her opening campaign speech by greeting the assemblage in Polish.

College Plans

cient quality to meet, the early needs of the college.

Develop 'Space Needs'

College officials have completed an intensive study of the college for the early 1970's and, based upon State University of New York projections, have developed "space needs" for a college of 750 to 800 full time students by 1970. This space needs study has necessarily been based upon population projections, college enrollment projections and new curricula which will be introduced to serve our community. Guidelines have been established relative to the number of classrooms, needs, number and size of laboratories needed, the size of faculty needed, the library needs of the college. With regards to outside campus development, consideration has been given to the number of parking spaces needed and the athletic area needed to support the required physical education program at the college.

Based upon these space needs of the college for the foreseeable future the architectural firm of Augustus Schwegman Associates have developed alternate master plans which will locate on the Stone Ridge campus the various buildings which might be erected in the years to come, the recommended location of parking areas, roadways, sidewalks, campus lighting, athletic fields and the entire picture of the way the campus might develop. At the same time the college architects have been deeply involved in general planning for the buildings which will be constructed as the first phase of campus development.

About the Folks

Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly, Town of Ulster, a patient at Benedictine Hospital, following a recent heart seizure is showing improvement according to his family, but is not allowed to have visitors.

Probe Continues Of Burglary at Car Wash Firm

Ulster County Investigator Thomas Mayone of the sheriff's department is continuing an investigation of a burglary at the Port Even Minute Car Wash, Frank Rinando of Highland, proprietor.

Monday about 9 p. m. David Mannello Jr., an assistant manager of the car wash, went to the premises to do work on his car. He heard a strange noise in the rear of the building and on investigating observed someone leaving the premises.

Town of Esopus Constable Frank Barroff was notified and in turn notified the sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff James Freer and C. Swenson made an investigation and found a tin box used to deposit tips had been broken open and an undetermined amount of money taken. The cash register was rifled of approximately $2 and a roll of stamps was also missing. Entrance was gained by breaking a lock on a side door.

Two Drivers Are Booked Following Three-Car Mishap

Two drivers were booked on charges after a three-car mishap on lower Broadway early today.

Walter J. Bigler, 45, of Second Street, Connelly, was charged with driving while intoxicated and failure to keep right, and Peter M. Ferraro, 24, of Route 6, Box 162-D, Eight Mile, Ala., was charged with lack of registration.

City court hearing of the charges against Bigler was put over to Saturday and Ferraro is to appear in court on that date. Police said the car driven by Ferraro was headed down Broadway and that driven by Bigler was headed in the opposite direction when they collided near Spring Street. The third car, owned by Bernard Wynkoop, of 561 Congress Avenue, New Haven, Conn., was parked near 91 Broadway.

Helen Cooper, 31, of 90 Broadway, the report said, suffered a head injury and was to be treated by a doctor.

Police said Ferraro suffered a "whiplash" injury and was admitted to Kingston Hospital. The report said the parked car became involved when the car moving down Broadway swerved to avoid the vehicle headed up the hill. Officers Raymond Wells and John Kennedy investigated.

Refuse Decision

order to submit any application from the city to the Conservation Department for financial assistance in the acquisition of privately owned lands for park and recreational purposes.

Calls Response Unfair

"The mayor has accused those, who have opposed him, of acting out of emotion. This hardly seems like a fair response, when he is clearly acting contrary to the city charter, as well as existing statutory laws. If the opposition is emotional, it is not, then it is emotional. It is a government of laws, rather than a government of men, are likewise emotional."

"It is time for Mayor Schwenk to stop ignoring the Common Council, and to admit that it is for the members of the Honorable Body to pass upon the merits or demerits of his refusal to accept the plan. They are the true representatives of the people of the City of Kingston, and it is for them to decide whether the mayor's plans are truly in the interest of the entire city. The mayor must acknowledge that he does require the Common Council, and that he cannot continue to dictate to them."

Home Builders Back Proposed Planning

Sam Hankin, president of the Home Builders Association of the Hudson Valley, today enthusiastically endorsed the proposal of Lelan F. Sillin Jr., president and chief executive officer of Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. for the proposed formation of a Mid-Hudson regional planning and development group.

Hankin noted that the HBA draws its membership from the area Sillin proposes to embrace in his suggested regional planning program. "As a result, our members can easily identify themselves with the scope of your proposal," Hankin said, "as many of them long experienced some of the region's problems and challenges."

It was noted that a regional planning and development group could, in all probability, provide effective solutions to many areas of great interest and concern to the home builders. Items included by Hankin in this category were coordinated land use and zoning; the preservation of scenic and historic attractions; area planning for utility facilities such as water supply, sewerage, and incineration; and professional attention to traffic, highway planning and water and air transportation.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Gains by cigarette stocks and a slump in cigar issues were highlights of a mixed stock market early this afternoon.

The cigarette stocks added substantial gains following a report from the Internal Revenue Service that cigarettes have rocketed back from the slump that followed the government report last January linking them to lung cancer and heart disease.

The IRS also reported a nose dive in shipments of small cigars.

Steels carried through only a bit from their rally of Tuesday and the major auto shares marked time along with the auto labor talks.

Aerospace issues were up while airlines were down.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 316.7 with industrials up .4, rails off .7 and utilities up .4.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .70 at 843.53.

Rails reacted to the news that the Interstate Commerce Commission had indefinitely postponed the effective date of the Nickel Plate-Norfolk & Western merger. Nickel Plate sank more than a point while N&W added a fraction. New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad lost around a point each.

Trans World Airlines fell more than a point.

Johnson Rejects Johnson

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Gov. Paul B. Johnson has turned down an invitation from President Johnson to meet with other Democratic governors.

Johnson said Tuesday he had no intention of attending the Democratic National Convention and that he would not meet with the President at the White House Saturday.

Louisiana Gov. John McKeithen and Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus also said they would not attend the White House meeting or the convention.

The three governors were among five Democratic state chief executives who held a secret strategy meeting in New Orleans last Friday. The others were Florida Gov. Farris Bryant and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Six Killed, 3 Hurt as Auto Goes Over Barrier

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP) — A convertible shot over a 30-inch-high metal barrier near the Ohio gateway to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Tuesday night and slammed head-on into a station wagon, killing six persons and seriously injuring three others.

A truck driver directing traffic around the wreckage was also injured when he was hit by a car.

A spokesman for the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission said the dead were:

Jerry Tinsley, 18, of Cleveland, driver of the convertible, and three passengers in Tinsley's car.

Parnell Lewis Days, 17, Morris D. Lanier, 18, Robert Carl Price, 18, all of Cleveland, and Isaac Reznick, 50, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Another passenger, Kenneth Francis, 15, also of Cleveland, was listed in serious condition at Providence Hospital in Beaver Falls.

The sixth victim was Frank Heinz, 26, of Center, N. D., the driver of the station wagon.

His wife, Lenore, 24, was listed in serious condition at the hospital. Their daughter, Kyle, 3, was transferred from Providence Hospital to Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh where she is listed in serious condition.

The truck driver, James Hilbert, 45, of (326 E. Pine St.) Selinsgrove, Pa., was admitted to Providence Hospital. He was listed in fair condition.

Johnson to Bare Family Finances

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today that a full accounting of the financial position of President Johnson and his family would be made public today.

George E. Reedy, White House press secretary, said the accounting firm of Haskins and Sells would make an accounting of all family finances since January 1954.

Haskins and Sells, one of the largest firms of certified public accountants in the nation, began its study of the family's financial position "early in July," Reedy said.

He said Johnson "directed that this be done."

The press secretary declined to say why Johnson felt such a study was necessary.

The White House project, however, follows publication of various estimates of Johnson family wealth, ranging from $4 million to $14 million.

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Paul A. Fino, Bronx County Republican chairman, has challenged Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester for the GOP nomination to the U.S. Senate.

Fino says Keating, who formally announced for a second term Tuesday, "cannot and should not" ask for renomination as long as he continues to withhold endorsement of presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Could Mean Floor Fight

Until Fino declared his candidacy in a statement in Washington, Keating had been expected to win unanimous nomination at the Republican State Committee meeting here Aug. 31.

Fino's move raised the possibility of a floor fight at the meeting, but nomination of Keating appeared certain. Keating's announcement won favorable reaction among party leaders, including Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, State Chairman Fred A. Young and Sen. Jacob K. Javits.

Fino said "Keating's failure and refusal to support the national ticket is tantamount to bolting the Republican party."

Fino declined to estimate how many of the 300 members of the Republican State Committee might support him. He said, however, that he expected backing by two congressmen from Nassau County on Long Island — Frank J. Becker and Steven B. Derounian.

Later, Becker issued a statement in Washington saying he could not support Keating because of the senator's failure to endorse Goldwater and his vice presidential running mate, Rep. William E. Miller of New York.

Notes Differences

Miller said Tuesday that Keating's announcement that he would campaign independently of the national ticket would not hurt it. Miller expressed confidence that he and Goldwater will win New York State's 43 electoral votes.

Keating, in announcing his candidacy at a news conference, spoke of "deep differences" between him and Goldwater.

Questioned by reporters, however, Keating said: "I hope very much that I can support the national ticket. I've always left the door open and it's still open. I simply do not know what the future may hold."

Mrs. Luce Still Possibility

A major threat to Keating's chances in the general election is the possibility that Clare Boothe Luce, a staunch Goldwater supporter, will run for the Senate as the Conservative party candidate.

Keating conceded that Mrs. Luce would draw votes that otherwise might go to him.

Mrs. Luce — playwright, former Republican congresswoman from Connecticut, ambassador to Italy during the Eisenhower administration and wife of publisher Henry R. Luce — said Tuesday she would have to give more consideration to the Conservative party invitation to run.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy is reported to have more than enough delegate votes to win the Democratic Senate nomination at the party's state convention here on Sept. 1.

'Olympic' . . .

ers probably will see very little of it. However, Canadian and European broadcasters plan to make extensive use of the film after speeding it by microwave and by jet plane from the California reception point to Montreal and Hamburg, Germany.

NBC Arrangements

The National Broadcasting Co. purchased exclusive U.S. territorial rights to Olympic telecasts and plans to use mostly film flown from Tokyo, because most of the action will occur while Americans are asleep, only the opening ceremonies on Oct. 10 are planned to be televised live via Syncom 3.

Under the NBC contract, other U.S. broadcasting interests will be allotted 9 minutes a day — in 3-minute segments — for showing Olympic film. Some of this may be relayed by Syncom 3.

Syncom 3's primary purpose is to further determine the feasibility of using high-altitude synchronous satellites as space communications stations. Telephone, television, radio, Teletype and picture transmission experiments are planned.

Only three such satellites, equally spaced around the equator, would provide worldwide communications coverage. From its high outpost, Syncom 3 could serve as a relay point between wide areas of North America and Asia, covering more than a third of the globe.

To dramatize space communications, U.S. and Japanese interests have committed about $600,000 to prepare facilities to televise the Oct. 10-24 Olympic Games from Tokyo to the United States.

Canadian and European broadcasting companies plan to invest nearly $300,000 to speed the transmissions from the United States to their viewers.

The U.S. Communications Satellite Corp., created by Congress to develop a commercial communications satellite system, said it was directing the Olympic TV project on a non-profit basis in compliance with a State Department finding that "it would be in the national interest."

MRS. MARGARET BIXBY

Manager Named Of Nugent Store, Opening Thursday

The manager of the new, modern Nugent store, opening Thursday morning at the Kingston Shopping Plaza, is Mrs. Margaret Bixby of Framingham, Mass.

Mayor John J. Schwenk will officiate at the ribbon-cutting ceremony at 10 a. m.

Nugent's came to Kingston a quarter of a century ago, establishing a store on North Front Street. After several years at this location, the firm moved to the North side of Wall Street, and then later moved to the present location at 317 Wall Street. The building at 317 Wall Street was sold to Yalumi's some time ago, and it was recently announced that Nugent's would move to the Plaza location.

The recently completed store in the shopping plaza "affords a new fashion approach unique in Kingston's history," according to Manager Bixby. The store has "a casual look from its wood and brick front to its more formal dress and coat salon in the rear."

A complete line of junior, misses and women's ready-to-wear, sportswear, intimate apparel and accessories will be featured in the new Nugents. During the opening event, Nugents will have Miss Francis Zecker and Miss Thelma Frongillo, sportswear and dress fashion consultants, available at the new store.

Emphasis will be placed upon customer relations, according to Mrs. Bixby. "Customers will be welcome to come in and browse around as much as they desire," she said, and indicated that it was not the policy of the store to "high pressure customers but to treat them in a most friendly and courteous manner."

Miller Advocates Firm Policy in Communist Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller of Niagara County, making his first campaign appearance in New York since his Republican nomination for vice president, called Tuesday night for "firmness" in dealing with Communist countries.

He also criticized Democratic handling of foreign aid and overseas information policies.

Miller addressed 100 Polish-American organization leaders at a session of the American Council of Polish Cultural Clubs.

Miller's wife, Stephanie, who was introduced at the meeting as "a girl from Buffalo, of Polish extraction," made her opening campaign speech by greeting the assemblage in Polish.

College Plans

cient quality to meet, the early needs of the college.

Develop 'Space Needs'

College officials have completed an intensive study of the college for the early 1970's and, based upon State University of New York projections, have developed "space needs" for a college of 750 to 800 full time students by 1970. This space needs study has necessarily been based upon population projections, college enrollment projections and new curricula which will be introduced to serve our community. Guidelines have been established relative to the number of classrooms, needs, number and size of laboratories needed, the size of faculty needed, the library needs of the college. With regards to outside campus development, consideration has been given to the number of parking spaces needed and the athletic area needed to support the required physical education program at the college.

Based upon these space needs of the college for the foreseeable future the architectural firm of Augustus Schrowang Associates have developed alternate master plans which will locate on the Stone Ridge campus the various buildings which might be erected in the years to come, the recommended location of parking areas, roadways, sidewalks, campus lighting, athletic fields and the entire picture of the way the campus might develop. At the same time the college architects have been deeply involved in general room arrangements and floor plans for the buildings which will possibly be constructed as the first phase of campus development.

The $20,000 made available by the Board of Supervisors by Resolution passed on June 11 provided the funds immediately necessary to finance these studies and test borings which become necessary.

Probe Continues Of Burglary at Car Wash Firm

Ulster County Investigator Thomas Mayone of the sheriff's department is continuing an investigation of a burglary at the Port Ewen Minute Car Wash, Frank Rinando of Highland, proprietor.

Monday about 9 p. m. David Mannello Jr., an assistant manager of the car wash, went to the premises to do work on his car. He heard a strange noise in the rear of the building and on investigating observed someone leaving the premises.

Constable Frank Barriotti was notified and in turn notified the sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriffs James Freer and C. Swenson made an investigation and found a tin box used to deposit tips had been broken open and an undetermined amount of money taken. The cash register was rifled of approximately $2 and a roll of stamps was also missing.

Entrance was gained by breaking a lock on a side door.

Two Drivers Are Booked Following Three-Car Mishap

Two drivers were booked on charges after a three-car mishap on lower Broadway early today.

Walter J. Bigler, 45, of Second Street, Connelly, was charged with driving while intoxicated and failure to keep right, and Peter M. Ferraro, 24, of Route 6, Box 162-D, Eight Mile, Ala., was charged with lack of registration.

City court hearing of the charges against Bigler was put over to Saturday and Ferraro is to appear in court on that date.

Police said the car driven by Ferraro was headed down Broadway and that driven by Bigler was headed in the opposite direction when they collided near Spring Street. The third car, owned by Bernard Winklopp, of 561 Congress Avenue, New Haven, Conn., was parked near 91 Broadway.

Heleen Cooper, 31, of 90 Broadway, the report said, suffered a head injury and was to be treated by a doctor.

Police said Ferraro suffered a "whiplash" injury and was admitted to Kingston Hospital. The report said the parked car became involved when the car moving down Broadway swerved to avoid the vehicle headed to the hill. Officers Raymond Wells and John Kennedy investigated.

Refuse Decision

order to submit any application from the city to the Conservation Department for the financial assistance in the acquisition of privately owned lands for park and recreational purposes.

Calls Response Unfair

"The mayor has accused those who have opposed him, of acting out of emotion. This hardly seems like a fair response, when he is clearly acting contrary to the city charter, as well as existing statutory laws. If the opposition is emotional, which it is not, then all people who believe in a government of laws, rather than a government of men, are likewise emotional."

"It is time for Mayor Schwenk to stop ignoring the Common Council, and to admit that it is for the members of the Honorable Body to pass upon the merits or demerits of his refuse disposal site plan. They are the true representatives of the people of the City of Kingston, and it is for them to decide whether the mayor's plans are truly in the interest of the entire city. The mayor must acknowledge that he does require the Common Council, and that he cannot continue to dictate to them."

Home Builders Back Proposed Planning

Sam Hankin, president of the Home Builders Association of the Hudson Valley, today enthusiastically endorsed the proposal of Lelan F. Sillin Jr., president and chief executive officer of Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. for the proposed formation of a Mid-Hudson regional planning and development group.

Hankin noted that the HBA draws its membership from the area Sillin proposes to embrace in his suggested regional planning program. "As a result, our members can easily identify themselves with the scope of your proposal," Hankin said. "As many of them long experienced some of the region's problems and challenges."

It was noted that a regional planning and development group could, in all probability, provide effective solutions to many areas of great interest and concern to the home builders. Items included by Hankin in this category were coordinated land use and zoning; the preservation of scenic and historic attractions; area planning for utility facilities such as water supply, sewerage, and incineration; and provision of attention to traffic, highway planning and water and air transportation.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Gains by cigarette stocks and a slump in cigar issues were highlights of a mixed stock market early this afternoon.

The cigarette stocks added substantial gains following a report from the Internal Revenue Service that cigarettes have rocketed back from the slump that followed the government report last January linking them to lung cancer and heart disease.

The IRS also reported a nose dive in shipments of small cigars.

Steels carried through only a bit from their rally of Tuesday and the major auto shares marked time along with the auto labor talks.

Aerospace issues were up while airlines were down.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 316.7 with industrials up .3, rails off .7 and utilities up .4.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .70 at 847.53.

Rails reacted to the news that the Interstate Commerce Commission had indefinitely postponed the effective date of the Nickel Plate-Norfolk & Western merger. Nickel Plate sank more than a point while N&W added a fraction. New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad lost around a point each.

Trans World Airlines fell more than a point.

3 Teeners Hurt, Car Rams Bridge In Shandaken

Three teenagers were injured at 11 p. m. Tuesday, when the car in which they were riding left a road leading to Camp Timberlake, Shandaken, and hit a bridge.

Trooper Charles Bundschuh said Paul Bather, 17, of Brooklyn, operator of the vehicle, was summoned to appear before Justice of the Peace Amiel E. Hess, Town of Shandaken, on a charge of driving without a license.

Passengers in the car were listed as Theodore Atkinson, 14, of Allaben, who received lacerations of the right leg and head injuries; Daniel Daugherty, 17, of Phoenicia, cuts of the right hand, and Robert Benson, 14, of St. Albans, bump on the head. They were treated at Kingston Hospital.

Troopers said the car failed to negotiate a curve and went off the right side of the camp road. Troopers John McKie and David Wachtel investigated.

Woman Indicted In Gun Slaying Of Ex-Husband

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — A woman who gave birth to her sixth child while in custody in the slaying of her ex-husband has been indicted on a charge of first-degree manslaughter.

A Rensselaer County grand jury indicted Mrs. Catherine Hamel, 30, yesterday after her discharge from Samaritan Hospital, where her 7-pound daughter was born Friday.

The district attorney's office had sought a first-degree murder indictment against her for the shooting of Albert Hamel, 38, July 26.

Hospital attendants said the baby probably would be turned over to relatives of Mrs. Hamel who are caring for the five other Hamel children.

A group of children from the George Washington and Metropolitan City Playground Programs planned and executed a project to raise money for a contribution to the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center at 400 Broadway.

They organized their own "workshop" and put-in overtime making and selling pot holders and as well as a neighborhood newspaper.

Participating in this project were Ann, Mary and Bobby Marks; Cathy Foster; Patty Barry; Harry Nushbaum, and Nancy and Holly Seitz.

The youngsters were under the direction of Miss Mary-Lee Kennedy, one of the summer counselors of the City Recreation department.

"Yet, despite these problems and perils, the future holds out infinite possibilities and promises for the perfection of democracy and for the improvement of life, not only in this country but in every land."

Standing erect and supported lightly by a cane as he walked in and out of a midtown hotel suite for his news conference, the 94-year-old Baruch looked many years younger than his 94.

Except for the time it took to read a brief statement, Baruch lightheartedly traded banter with reporters.

Greatest Lesson

Asked what was the greatest lesson he had learned, Baruch smiled and quipped: "To mind my own business."

He said he seldom goes to Central Park anymore. He gained such fame for passing out advice from a bench there that one was dedicated to him and a plaque bearing his name was attached to it. The same honor was given him in a Washington, D.C., park.

A spokesman said Baruch swims three or four times each week and still makes trips to his plantation in South Carolina.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Business still tends to shrug off this year's political campaigning as unlikely to brake the momentum of the economic upswing.

Growing involvement of government in business affairs at all levels makes any political campaign strike close to home nonetheless. And this year's campaign seems more confusing at the moment and more likely to grow bitter than any for some time past.

But even so, the political campaign so far is showing no signs of upsetting business confidence or changing business plans for expansion and increased production schedules.

Major Splits Noted

For one thing, for many years now the leading parties have been markedly divided. Both Republican and Democratic members of Congress have been considered friends of business, while others of each party have been classed as troublesome or doubtful at the best.

The split in both parties is deeper this year, and more confusing. And so is the split in the loyalties of businessmen themselves.

At the ballot boxes in November there seems likely to be more crossing over from traditional lines than for many a year. A number of business leaders who have always voted Republican say they favor the Democrats this year. Many staunch Democrats may be voting Republican.

In both cases there will be other considerations than the interests of business itself that will affect their decisions.

But those more or less on the sidelines of the fierce political battle know that in most presidential election years the course of the economy already has been set. And the campaign — even its outcome — has had little visible effect on that course.

Little Variance

The stock market often reacts sharply — but usually for a short period only — to campaign surprises and election results. The course it was taking, or seemed likely to take in the future, has varied only slightly because of political battles, over the long run.

All this is probably one reason so many business firms this spring and summer have announced plans for increased spending for new plants or improvements. The ability of the economy to surmount political oratory also is back of the predictions by many top business executives that they see good times extending well into next year.

Democrats Name Greene Chairman Sergeant at Arms

O'Connell has attended five national conventions and has been a delegate to the last two. He has been active in the Democratic Party for some 30 years, and has been Democratic party chairman in Greene County for the last 19 years. During the term of Gov. Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Business still tends to shrug off this year's political campaigning as unlikely to brake the momentum of the economic upswing.

Growing involvement of government in business affairs at all levels makes any political campaign strike close to home nonetheless. And this year's campaign seems more confusing at the moment and more likely to grow bitter than any for some time past.

But even so, the political campaign so far is showing no signs of upsetting business confidence or changing business plans for expansion and increased production schedules.

Major Splits Noted

For one thing, for many years now the leading parties have been markedly divided. Both Republican and Democratic members of Congress have been considered friends of business, while others of each party have been classed as troublesome or doubtful at the best.

The split in both parties is deeper this year, and more confusing. And so is the split in the loyalties of businessmen themselves.

At the ballot boxes in November there seems likely to be more crossing over from traditional lines than for many a year. A number of business leaders who have always voted Republican say they favor the Democrats this year. Many staunch Democrats may be voting Republican.

In both cases there will be other considerations than the interests of business itself that will affect their decisions.

But those more or less on the sidelines of the fierce political battle know that in most presidential election years the course of the economy already has been set. And the campaign — even its outcome — has had little visible effect on that course.

Little Variance

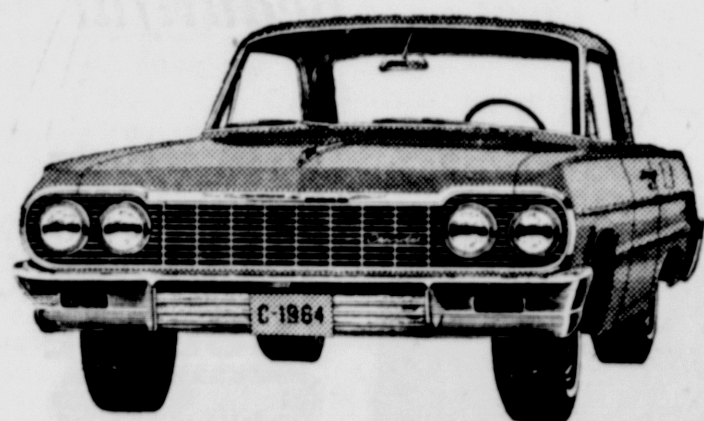

The stock market often reacts sharply — but usually for a short period only — to campaign surprises and election results. The course it was taking, or seemed likely to take in the future, has varied only slightly because of political battles, over the long run.

All this is probably one reason so many business firms this spring and summer have announced plans for increased spending for new plants or improvements. Dear Abby . . . Actions Not Commendable! Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: An extremely attractive woman and I have been seeing each other exclusively for the past year. I am in my early 40's and she is in her early 30's. She has recently begun to pressure me for a marriage date. She told me that she was a widow, but I learned quite accidentally that she had three husbands. Her first she divorced, her second died, and her third she also divorced. When I confronted her with these facts, she readily admitted they were true. When I asked her why she didn't volunteer the truth about herself in the first place, she said she had been "counseled" not to. What kind of a "counselor" would advise a woman to withhold such pertinent information from the man she intended to marry?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: One without integrity, obviously. But it's the WOMAN you are interested in, not the counselor. And any woman who would accept the counsel of deception is no better than her counselor. What else do you want to know?

DEA RABBY: I have a 14-year-old daughter who rushes outside when she hears someone honk a horn. I tell her it is not right, that if a boy wants to see her, he should come to the door. She says I am old-fashioned, and that if she had a date with a boy then she would expect him to come to the door. But if he just happens to be driving by and wants to see if she's home, there is nothing wrong with honking his horn. All this horn honking and her running outside is getting to be too much for

Couples Club Will Sponsor Art Show; Opens on August 28

A growing number of the area's professional artists are accepting invitations to exhibit at the Art Show and Sale in Ellenville Reformed Church on August 28 and 29.

John Calhoun of Napanoch will bring to this showing the results of many years of training. A native of Toledo, O., Mr. Calhoun holds degrees in art from Pratt Institute and State University College at New Paltz. His art credits include several group showings in Syracuse, Albany and New York City, and his own successful one-man show at Wenig's of Napanoch in 1963. His long career in the art field includes jobs as window display designer, war camouflage artist, commercial artist, and art teacher.

William Winters Jr., of Napanoch, will exhibit paintings showing the landscapes and architectural styles that are constantly being replaced by newer, more modern scenes. Mr. Winters is a commercial artist for Channel Master Corp. in Ellenville and has been using spare time for the past two years to engage in oil painting. His paintings have been seen at the Napanoch Post Office, the Midtown Outdoor Show and the Newburgh Jewish Community Center.

Also exhibiting at the show will be Ernest Heusser of Ellenville who is well known in the area for his paintings of sailing vessels and Indian life. Mr. Heusser will bring paintings showing scenes of the O. & W. Railroad, of desert life, and Indian life to the show.

Miss Rachel Taylor of Cragmoor brings to the show many years of experience in the art field. She has taught art for many years at State Teachers Colleges in New Jersey, Michigan, Colorado, Delaware, and New York. She is former State Director of Art Education for the State of Delaware. Though now retired, Miss Taylor continues to teach art to senior citizens in Wilmington, Del. She will be bringing several watercolors to the show.

GOOD REPUTATION SAVES UNPROFITABLE SITUATION

Q—I have a room in a private house. The owner is a widow with an unmarried son living at home with her. After her husband's death she put up two rooms for rent. I have one and a middle-aged school teacher has the other. The owner is going away shortly for three days. It so happens that the school teacher will also be away at the same time, leaving the son and me alone in the house. My fiancé thinks I will be jeopardizing my reputation if I remain here while others are away and thinks I should go to a hotel until they return. I think it's perfectly ridiculous and can't imagine how anyone could find any impropriety in this situation. Furthermore, I think my leaving would imply mistrust of the son.

A—If the owner's son is a perfectly trustworthy person and you and he of good reputation, I don't see how anyone could possibly criticize this temporary situation and I think your fiancé is being overly strict in expecting you to go to a hotel until they return.

Taking A Boy's Arm

Q—Is it proper for a girl to take a boy's arm when walking on the street?

A—Unless she needs his support, she does not take his arm in the daytime. In the evening, he courteously offers her his arm.

Holding Conversation on Dance Floor

Q—Is it considered bad manners for a couple practically to stop dancing on a crowded floor in order to greet another couple whom they both know, and hold a short conversation with them?

A—To stop for a moment to greet a friend, is permissible; but they should not hold a conversation on the dance floor where they will interfere with the dancing of others.

Leopold Stokowski Conducts Friday Night; Approaching Final Weekend at Berkshire

The Boston Symphony Orchestra will be heard in its final weekend of concerts at Tanglewood this weekend, with programs Friday (Aug. 21) and Saturday (Aug. 22) evenings at 8 p. m. and Sunday afternoon (Aug. 23) at 2:30 p. m. Leopold Stokowski, the renowned 82-year-old conductor, has accepted the invitation of Erich Leinsdorf, music director, to conduct for the first time at Tanglewood on Friday evening, and Mr. Leinsdorf will conduct the Saturday and Sunday concerts.

Mr. Stokowski's program Friday evening (Aug. 21) will begin with Mozart's Sinfonia Concertante, in E-flat K. 297b, and continue with Richard Strauss' tone poem, "Death and Transfiguration," Op. 24. After the intermission Mr. Stokowski will conduct Alan Hovhaness' Prelude and Quadruple Fugue for Orchestra, Op. 128; Ned Rorem's "Eagles" (After Walt Whitman); and Stravinsky's Suite from the Ballet "Petrouchka."

Erich Leinsdorf will begin his Saturday evening concert (Aug. 22) with Excerpts from "Die Walkure," Act III by Wagner, assisted by Ezio Flagello, bass. The program will conclude with the first performance at Tanglewood of Verdi's Requiem, Mass (In Memory of Alessandro Manzoni), with Lucio Amara, soprano; Lili Chokiasian, contralto; George Shirley, tenor; Ezio Flagello, bass; and the Chorus pro Musica of Boston, Alfred Nash Patterson, music director.

The Sunday afternoon concert, which will be not only the final

Berkshire Festival program of the summer but also the end of the Boston Symphony's Orchestra's 83rd season, will consist of two works by Beethoven and one by Richard Strauss, thus completing the Berkshire Festival's observance of the 100th birthday anniversary of Strauss. The Sunday program will consist of Beethoven's Overture to "Fidelio," Op. 72; Beethoven's Symphony No. 7, in A major, Op. 92; and Strauss' tone poem, "Ein Heldenleben," (A Hero's Life), Op. 40.

For the evening concerts, the Tanglewood grounds and cafeteria will open at 6 p. m. Sunday afternoon the grounds and cafeteria will open at noon.

GOOD REPUTATION SAVES UNPROFITABLE SITUATION

Q—I have a room in a private house. The owner is a widow with an unmarried son living at home with her. After her husband's death she put up two rooms for rent. I have one and a middle-aged school teacher has the other. The owner is going away shortly for three days. It so happens that the school teacher will also be away at the same time, leaving the son and me alone in the house. My fiancée thinks I will be jeopardizing my reputation if I remain here while others are away and thinks I should go to a hotel until they return. I think it's perfectly ridiculous and can't imagine how anyone could find any impropriety in this situation. Furthermore, I think my leaving would imply mistrust of the son.

A—If the owner's son is a perfectly trustworthy person and you and he of good reputation, I don't see how anyone could possibly criticize this temporary situation and I think your fiancée is being overly strict in expecting you to go to a hotel until they return.

Taking A Boy's Arm
Q—Is it proper for a girl to take a boy's arm when walking on the street?

A—Unless she needs his support, she does not take his arm in the daytime. In the evening, he courteously offers her his arm.

Holding Conversation on Dance Floor

Q—Is it considered bad manners for a couple practically to stop dancing on a crowded floor in order to greet another couple whom they both know, and hold a short conversation with them?

A—To stop for a moment to greet a friend, is permissible; but they should not hold a conversation on the dance floor where they will interfere with the dancing of others.

Dear Abby . . . Actions Not Commendable!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: An extremely attractive woman and I have been seeing each other exclusively for the past year. I am in my early 40's and she is in her early 30's. She has recently begun to pressure me for a marriage date. She told me that she was a widow, but I learned quite accidentally that she had three husbands. Her first she divorced, her second died, and her third she also divorced. When I confronted her with these facts, she readily admitted they were true. When I asked her why she didn't volunteer the truth about herself in the first place, she said she had been "counseled" not to. What kind of a "counselor" would advise a woman to withhold such pertinent information from the man she intended to marry?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: One without integrity, obviously. But it's the WOMAN you are interested in, not the counselor. And any woman who would accept the counsel of deception is no better than her counselor. What else do you want to know?

DEA RABBY: I have a 14-year-old daughter who rushes outside when she hears someone honk a horn. I tell her it is not right, that if a boy wants to see her, he should come to the door. She says I am old-fashioned, and that if she had a date with a boy then she would expect him to come to the door. But if he just happens to be driving by and wants to see if she's home, there is nothing wrong with honking his horn. All this horn honking and her running outside is getting to be too much for me. Maybe if you told her, Abby, she would listen. Or am I old-fashioned?

GIVE UP

DEAR GIVE: You are not old-fashioned. A boy who respects a girl will not "honk" his horn outside her home. And any girl who runs outside at the sound of a "honk" is a silly goose.

DEAR ABBY: So many of our friends and relatives have been dying off lately, my husband and I decided to go over our wills. They originally stated that our estates would be divided among our children, and they would all share and share alike. We have changed them. Our oldest daughter has given us more attention and respect than any of the others. We also have a son who has never gone out of his way to show us any consideration. They will all get what we think they deserve. Nuts to this share and share alike business.

MATER AND PATER

CONFIDENTIAL TO DANNY: "If you cannot inspire a woman with love of yourself, fill her above the brim with love of herself; all that runs over will be yours." These are the words of C. C. COLTON, an English clergyman (1780-1832), and times have not changed very much.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

National Education Ass'n Issues Series; Labor Force Needs Explored

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The "Dear Joe" of America's future labor force who will be heading back to school soon got an open letter this month from the director of the National Education Association's Automation Project. It was signed by the Project Director Virgil M. Rogers, and read as follows:

Dear Joe: I wish I could tell you how to find a job in a couple of years. I can't, but I can tell you how you can help yourself, even though I can't guarantee results. Let me give you some facts:

1. There are proportionately few jobs left for unskilled workers, for kids with too little education. Therefore, you have to stay in school instead of becoming a dropout. More than that, you have to try to get something out of the courses. Let me illustrate:

• Elevators are being run by push buttons, so there is no great need for elevator operators.

• Ditches are being dug by machines rather than by men with shovels. To put it bluntly, everybody tries to use machines to deliver telegrams, wash dishes, peel potatoes, and mix dough. Most of the simple jobs are disappearing.

Even if you can land a job as a messenger to deliver telegrams or to run one of the remaining hand-operated elevators, the chances are the job won't last many years. Even if it lasts (which is highly unlikely), is that a gamble you want to take? Is that how you want to spend the rest of your life?

2. There are shortages of skilled workers, and there will be new jobs for those who can install and maintain the new machines. That means you must have a general education plus specialized skills. More than that, those skills will keep changing, and you'll have to get more education through your whole lifetime.

For better or worse, you have to face this: After you graduate from high school you will have a chance, but you still won't have enough education. You'll have to go back to school and learn more in order to keep up with new machines, new techniques, and new ideas. Why? Here are some simple examples:

Automobile mechanics some 25 years ago never heard of automatic transmissions, didn't know about power brakes and power windows, and would have laughed if you had told them about tubless tires.

Today you know that it is no laughing matter that we will probably have turbine engines and that we may even have automobile-like vehicles which will move on jets of air instead of wheels.

A good mechanic today will be an old-fashioned mechanic in just a few years unless he goes back to school. His employer may teach him on the job or send him to a factory-sponsored course, or he may take a night course on his own. But somehow, somewhere, he will have to learn new skills.

Another example: radio repairmen used to fix radios. Then came television, and they had to learn a brand-new skill (or be satisfied with a small business and no opportunities for promotion and security). On top of that we now have color TV, and who knows what will happen next? For that matter even the old fashioned radio is changing from tubes to transistors (and in many other ways).

Again, to hold a job, to increase your chances of not getting dumped or displaced or fired, you need to learn new skills, to keep up with technological change.

What can you do? Where do you get information on how to ready for a promising job?

Probably the most useful single source of printed information is the Occupational Outlook Handbook which you may find in your school or public library.

This reference which is updated every two years covers more than 700 occupations and industries and tells you about prospects, earnings, educational requirements, and what the work is like.

Then, you should consult an expert. Most schools have a counselor and you should talk with him. If the school does not have a counselor, check the local employment office operated by the U. S. Employment Service.

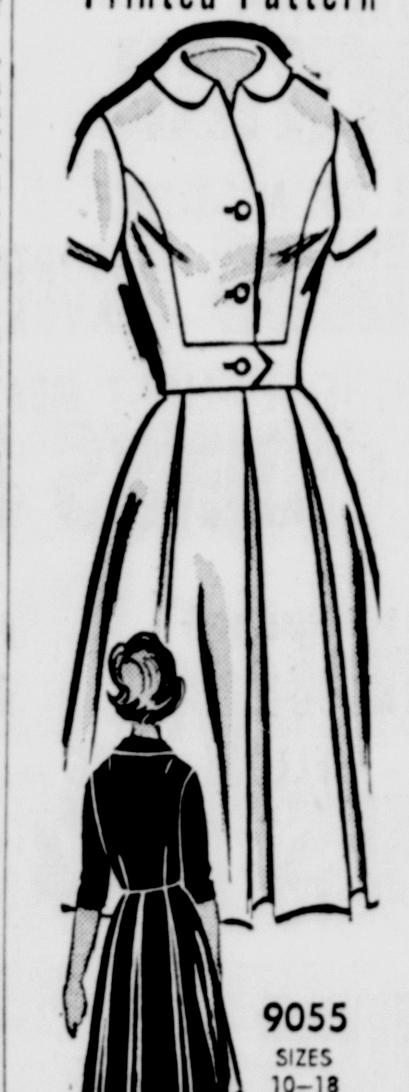

Assess carefully your own abilities and your own determination. Perhaps you could and should go to a college or to a technical institute even though it means a lot of hard work. No, you should NOT drop out of school because this would mean drifting from one poor job to a street corner to the next dead-end payroll.

Maybe it would be a good idea to join the armed services for a couple of years and then go back to school (always assuming that you have learned enough in school so that the armed services really want you).

Finally, remember that you are not likely to start any job at the top or in the middle. Most people start near the bottom. After you get a foothold, take your time, and show that you can do that job well but that you can do more, that you can give help and that you can take advice—and that you are taking classes at night or continuing your education in some other way. Good luck!

Board Plans Private Inquiry Into Village Green Incident

The Woodstock Town Board will conduct a closed inquiry into alleged local police brutality, it was announced by Supervisor Abram F. Molyneux at last night's monthly meeting of the board.

The inquiry, which stems from alleged police brutality in connection with July 12 fracas on the Village Green, will be held on Thursday, Aug. 27, starting at 1:30 p. m.

The investigation is closed to the press and public. Molyneux said, but the testimony will be tape-recorded and a public report will be made at a subsequent town board meeting.

All persons who wish to make statements or have information pertinent to the inquiry will be invited to testify under oath, it was announced. These persons will be asked to report to the town clerk and will be heard in the order in which they appear before the clerk.

Written statements will not be accepted, Molyneux said. Only oral depositions are desired and the board will reserve the right to question any or all witnesses. The board said it was especially interested in the testimony of eye-witnesses of the incident.

Persons wishing to testify at the inquiry may have the services of counsel, Molyneux said.

The board is not discounting the possibility of a lengthy session and will hear testimony at night, following a dinner break, if necessary.

If any group or individuals plan criminal action, they will not be permitted to testify at the inquiry. These persons should direct their grievances to the district attorney's office, the supervisor said.

Legal action against members of the local constabulary remains a possibility, it was learned. One of the youths involved in the July 12 incident has issued a signed statement in which he charges he was beaten in an upstairs room of police headquarters, following his arrest.

Another local item will be a Recreation Study for all age groups.

According to Mrs. Alvin E. Moscovitz, president of the Woodstock League of Women Voters, one of the National Study Items is Equality of Opportunity. Apportionment is one State Study Item.

All interested women are urged to call Mrs. Robinson for further information.

for the 1965 opera season. Tickets will be available at the door and the public is invited.

The party left here on Saturday, Aug. 15 and returned early Tuesday morning, Aug. 18. During their stay, they were entertained with receptions, cocktail parties, a fishing expedition on the Great Lakes, a cruise through the locks of the Rideau Canal which connects Lake Ontario and Canada's capital city of Ottawa, a visit to historic Fort Henry and by a luncheon attended by Canadian dignitaries.

Among the guests in photo taken here are Mayor and Mrs. John J. Schwenk; vice-president of the local club William F. Murray and Raymond F. Myers and wives; past-presidents Vincent Connelly and Harry Rigby Jr. and wives; and Raymond Garaghan; Mr. and Mrs. John H. Buras; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick F. DuBois; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Feyer; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hines; Mr. and Mrs. Zale Lise; Mr. and Mrs. John F. Schomer; Mr. and Mrs. John F. Spingewer; Frederic Snyder and Harold Keator Jr., chairman of the Kiwanis visitation committee.

The unique visitation program was initiated in 1954 by Hubert Hoderath, Jack Feyer, Harry Rigby Jr. and the late Harold Keator Sr., two of whom have made each one of the six trips since to Canada. A delegation from Kingston, Ontario, will return the visit in October of 1965. (H. Pete Powell photo)

K of C, Hurley Capture Wins In Babe Ruth League Contests

Defeats Mrs. Sharpe

Mrs. Roland Riegel Captures Ulster County Golf Playoff

Mrs. Roland (Emmy) Riegel, the current Shawangunk Country Club women's champion, defeated Mrs. Alex Sharpe, Jr. of Woodstock, net 67 to net 73 in the 18-hole playoff for the 1964 Ulster County Women's Golf Association Handicap title. They had tied for first place with 36-hole net scores of 138 in the regular tournament.

Mrs. Riegel toured the Woodstock Country Club course in 39-42-81 gross and had 14 handicap for net 67. Mrs. Sharpe grossed 97 and had 24 handicap for 73 net.

The handicap title was the second for Mrs. Riegel, who won her first in the tournament inaugural six years ago.

Dark Fumes as Giants Bow, 1-0, to Redlegs

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

If you see it at Dark's way, the San Francisco Giants were beaten in the first game of their vital home stand by three arms.

Dark, whose Giants are trying to overhaul National League-leading Philadelphia, wasn't too happy about the job done by Jim O'Toole's left arm as the Cincinnati ace pitched the Reds to a four-hit, 1-0 victory Tuesday night.

But what made the San Francisco manager furious was the feeling that the Giants were really given the business by Vada Pinson's waving arms.

The situation that angered Dark arose in the eighth inning of a scoreless duel between O'Toole and Bob Bolin, who had limited the Reds to two hits when they suddenly parlayed a walk, a bunt single, an error and Pinson's arms into the game's only run.

With one out in the eighth, Chico Ruiz walked and reached second on Marty Keough's bunt single. Pinson then lofted a short fly to center, shortstop Jose Pagan brushing into center fielder Willie Mays as the ball dropped between them. That filled the bases and set the stage for the key play.

Frank Robinson hit a grounder to second baseman Hal Lanier, who flipped to Pagan for a force, but the Giants missed the double play when Pagan's relay to first pulled Orlando Cepeda off the bag. Ruiz entered the Reds' dugout after scoring as Dark came storming out of the Giants' dugout.

Gets Ejected
Dark protested that Pinson had interfered with Pagan's vision by waving his arms as he came into second base, but was overruled. He also was ejected. The loss cost the Giants an opportunity to gain ground on the front-running Phillies, who maintained their five-game bulge despite a 4-3 loss in 16 innings to the Chicago Cubs.

Joe Amalfitano's two-run double won it for the Cubs in a 5-hour and 23-minute struggle which the first to go past the 12:50 a.m. local time curfew since NL President Warren Giles lifted the time ban to allow all games to be played to a decision.

Two-Run Double
Amalfitano put an end to the Cubs-Phillies' marathon with two out in the 16th when he doubled after Andre Rodgers singled and pinch hitter Dick Bern-tel walked. The Cubs needed both runs as Philadelphia catcher Clay Dalrymple, who had committed a costly two-base error earlier, homered in the bottom of the 16th.

Dalrymple's error came after Amalfitano had homered in the eighth for the first run off Dennis Bennett, who had allowed only four hits and held a 1-0 lead. Dalrymple fired wild on a high bounce in front of the plate by Leo Burke, who then scored on a double by Ernie Banks.

The Phillies tied it in the ninth when Alex Johnson, running for Wes Covington, who had singled, stole second and scored on Tony Taylor's single.

Sadecki, 15-9, won his own game in the seventh inning when he tripled and scored the run that broke a 2-2 tie on Lou Brock's single. Sadecki then turned the pitching over to Barney Schultz, who held the Colts in check the rest of the way.

Lemaster, bringing his record to 13-8, got the only runs he needed when batterymate Ed Bailey singled home two in the sixth inning after the Braves loaded the bases on an error. Lee Maye's single and a walk.

That tagged Don Drysdale, 13-13, with the loss. Christopher carried the load for the Mets, driving in three runs and scoring two. Ron Hunt chipped in with three hits in support of Al Jackson, who was tagged for a homer by Gene Freese but extended New York's winning streak to three games.

Army Gridders Start Sessions

WEST POINT, N. Y. — Fall training sessions will begin next week for the Army football team, with candidates from each class reporting on different days. This will leave coach Paul Dietzel with less than four weeks to get his 1964 team ready for its Sept. 19 opener with the Citadel here at Michie Stadium.

The Yearlings (sophomores), who have been taking their summer military training at Camp Buckner on the West Point reservation, report on Tuesday, Aug. 25. Two days later the Second Classmen (juniors) will join the squad. When the First Classmen (seniors) report on Saturday, Coach Dietzel will have all the '64 grid candidates available for training.

The entire team, both varsity and jayvee, will move to Camp Buckner the following Monday, Aug. 31, for a week of two-day drills. The only respite will come on Friday afternoon of that week when the Army players don their game uniforms and hold the annual picture day for photographers from the press, radio and television in Michie Stadium. Labor Day probably won't slow down the activity to any great degree, although the graders must move back to the Academy proper for academic sessions start the following day. From then on it will be one workout a day, starting at 3:45 p.m. and continuing until about 6 o'clock.

Army plays six games at home this season in one of the best schedules in Military Academy history. The Cadets will play host to The Citadel, Boston College, Penn State, Duke, Iowa State and Pittsburgh. They also meet Texas in Austin, Virginia in Charlottesville, Syracuse in New York City and Navy in Philadelphia.

George Dougherty turned in another strong pitching performance as the K of C beat the Vols, 7-1, and remained on top of the National division standings in the Kingston Babe Ruth League.

In the other contest, Hurley handed Kiwanis a 15th straight defeat, 5-1.

Dougherty fanned 11, walked seven and gave up two hits. Charlie had a bases loaded single to spark the attack. Gerry Corrado doubled and John Cook tripled.

Four walks, a double by Jack Tomson and a hit by Don Tomkins singled and scored five runs for Hurley in the second. Charles Moore was the winner and Jerry Longendyke lost it.

Tonight's games have the Legion and 35 Club meeting at the Stadium and VFW playing the KPA, also at the Stadium. Box scores:

Flying High

Angel's Lolich Breaks For Three-Hit Shutout

By MURRAY CHASS Associated Press Sports Writer
The Baltimore Orioles are flying again, but they haven't reached Mickey Lolich's altitude.

The Orioles, recovering from two straight losses to the New York Yankees, defeated Boston 5-2 Tuesday night and maintained their 12-game lead over Chicago in the American League pennant race.

Lolich took time out from a two-week hitch with the Air Force for a three-hit 1-0 shutout over the Los Angeles Angels in the second game of a two-night doubleheader. The Angels won the opener 1-0 behind the two-hit hurling of Dean Chance.

Stationed at Alpena, Mich., 230 miles from Detroit, Lolich flew in on a C-17 especially for the game. He planned to return to Alpena the same way today.

The 24-year-old left-hander stopped over in Detroit long enough to allow three singles in the first inning, then held the Angels hitless the rest of the way for his 13th triumph against seven defeats.

Eighth for Chance

Lolich also had time to watch the major leagues' leading shut-out ace at work. Chance, a remarkable 23-year-old right-hander, shot down the Tigers for his eighth shutout of the season and his second straight two-hit white-wash performance.

The victory was Chance's ninth in a row and gave him a 14-5 record. It also moved him one shutout ahead of Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees and Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Angels' ace, who hasn't lost since July 1, also reduced his earned run average to 1.60. Elsewhere in the AL, the White Sox nipped the Yankees 4-3 in 10 innings, Minnesota whipped Washington 6-1 and Cleveland downed Kansas City 5-1 after losing 13-9.

Win It in First

The Tigers gave Lolich all of the help he needed in the first inning. Jerry Lumpe singled, took second on an infield out and dashed home on a single by Gates Brown. The Angels had loaded the bases with one out in their first on three singles, but Lolich got Lou Clinton on a foul pop and struck out Bob Perry. Vic Power homered off Hank Aguirre in the second inning for the Angels' run in the opener. Chance escaped a bases-loaded situation in the first by retiring Bill Freehan on an inning-ending grounder. The only hits off Chance were singles by Brown in the first and Al Kaline in the sixth.

Norm Siebern and Boog Powell led the Orioles' attack, each banging a two-run double off Boston starter Bill Monbouquette. Siebern hit his in the three-run fourth inning while Powell connected in the sixth.

Dick Hall preserved Robin Roberts' 11th victory against five defeats. Hall relieved Roberts in the seventh after Ed Bressoud sliced a leadoff single. Hall retired the Red Sox the rest of the way.

The Yankees held a 3-0 lead over the White Sox until Floyd Robinson drove a three-run homer against Al Downing in the eighth. Chicago won the game with two out in the 10th on singles by Al Weis, Pete Ward and Mike Hershberger. Phil Linz tripled twice for New York, driving in one run and scoring two. The loss dropped the Yankees four games behind the Orioles.

East Tops West In Stokes Game

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)—Oscar Robertson's long jump shot with less than three minutes to play sparked an East team to a 90-88 victory over a West squad Tuesday night in the sixth annual Maurice Stokes Benefit Game played by stars of National Basketball Association clubs.

The game, played at Kutscher's Country Club, drew a crowd of 2,200 and added $7,500 to the fund for Stokes, a former Cincinnati Royal star who was stricken by a paralytic disease at the height of his NBA career.

The game, which attracted 25 of the league's top performers, boosted the Stokes Fund to $32,500.

Dark Fumes as Giants Bow, 1-0, to Redlegs

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

If you see it Al Dark's way, the San Francisco Giants were beaten in the first game of their vital home stand by three arms.

Dark, whose Giants are trying to overhaul National League-leading Philadelphia, wasn't too happy about the job done by Jim O'Toole's left arm as the Cincinnati ace pitched the Reds to a four-hit, 1-0 victory Tuesday night.

But what made the San Francisco manager furious was the feeling that the Giants were really given the business by Vada Pinson's wailing arms.

The situation that angered Dark arose in the eighth inning of a scoreless duel between O'Toole and Bob Bolin, who had limited the Reds to two hits when they suddenly parlayed a walk, a bunt single, an error and Pinson's arms into the game's only run.

With one out in the eighth, Chico Ruiz walked and reached second on Marty Keough's bunt single. Pinson then lofted a short fly to center, shortstop Jose Pagan brushing into center fielder Willie Mays as the ball dropped between them. That filled the bases and set the stage for the key play.

Frank Robinson hit a grounder to second baseman Hal Lanier, who flipped to Pagan for a force, but the Giants missed the double play when Pagan's relay to first pulled Orlando Cepeda off the bag. Ruiz entered the Reds' dugout after scoring as Dark came storming out of the Giants' dugout.

Gets Ejected
Dark protested that Pinson had interfered with Pagan's vision by waving his arms as he came into second base, but was overruled. He also was ejected. The loss cost the Giants an opportunity to gain ground on the front-running Phillies, who maintained their five-game bulge despite a 4-3 loss in 16 innings to the Chicago Cubs.

Joey Amalfitano's two-run double won it for the Cubs in a 5-hour and 22-minute struggle which the first to go past the 12:50 a.m. local time curfew since N.L. President Warren Giles lifted the time ban to allow all games to be played to a decision.

Two-Run Double
Amalfitano put an end to the Cubs-Phillies' marathon with two out in the 16th when he doubled after Andre Rodgers singled and pinch hitter Dick Ber-tell walked. The Cubs needed both runs as Philadelphia catcher Clay Dalrymple, who had committed a costly two-base error earlier, homered in the bottom of the 16th.

Dalrymple's error came after Amalfitano had homered in the eighth for the first run off Dennis Bennett, who had allowed only four hits and held a 1-0 lead. Dalrymple fired wild on a high bouncer in front of the plate by Leo Burke, who then scored on a double by Ernie Banks.

The Phillies tied it in the ninth when Alex Johnson, running for Wes Covington, who had singled, stole second and scored on Tony Taylor's single.

Sadecki, 15-9, won his own game in the seventh inning when he tripled and scored the run that broke a 2-2 tie on Lou Brock's single. Sadecki then turned the pitching over to Barney Schultz, who held the Cubs in check the rest of the way.

Lemaster, bringing his record to 13-8, got the only runs he needed when batterymate Ed Bailey singled home two in the sixth inning after the Braves loaded the bases on an error. Lee Maye's single and a walk. That tagged Don Drysdale, 13-13, with the loss.

Christopher carried the load for the Mets, driving in three runs and scoring two. Ron Hunt chipped in with three hits in support of Al Jackson, who was tagged for a homer by Gene Freese but extended New York's winning streak to three games.

Army Gridders Start Sessions

WEST POINT, N. Y. — Fall training sessions will begin next week for the Army football team, with candidates from each class reporting on different days. This will leave coach Paul Dietzel with less than four weeks to get his 1964 team ready for its Sept. 19 opener with the Citadel here at Michie Stadium.

The Yearlings (sophomores), who have been taking their summer military training at Camp Buckner on the West Point reservation, report on Tuesday, Aug. 25. Two days later the Second Classmen (juniors) will join the squad. When the First Classmen (seniors) report on Saturday, Coach Dietzel will have all the '64 grid candidates available for training.

The entire team, both varsity and jayvee, will move to Camp Buckner the following Monday, Aug. 31, for a week of two-day drills. The only respite will come on Friday afternoon of that week when the Army players don their game uniforms and hold the annual picture day for photographers from the press, radio and television in Michie Stadium.

Labor Day probably won't slow down the activity to any great degree, although the graders must move back to the Academy proper for academic sessions start the following day. From then on it will be one workout a day, starting at 3:45 p.m. and continuing until about 6 o'clock.

Army plays six games at home this season in one of the best schedules in Military Academy history. The Cadets will play host to The Citadel, Boston College, Penn State, Duke, Iowa State and Pittsburgh. They also meet Texas in Austin, Virginia in Charlottesville, Syracuse in New York City and Navy in Philadelphia.

George Dougherty turned in another strong pitching performance as the K of C beat the Vols, 7-1, and remained on top of the National division standings in the Kingston Babe Ruth League.

In the other contest, Hurley handed Kiwanis a 15th straight defeat, 5-1.

Dougherty fanned 11, walked seven and gave up two hits. Charlie had a bases loaded single to spark the attack. Gerry Corrado doubled and John Cook tripled.

Four walks, a double by Jack Tomson and a hit by Don Tomkins singled and scored five runs for Hurley in the second. Charles Moore was the winner and Jerry Longendyke lost it.

Tonight's games have the Legion and 35 Club meeting at the Stadium and VFW playing the KPA, also at the Stadium.

BEST BET — Common Interest entry (9th).

UPSET CHANCE — Ernest Hanover (3rd).

1. O'BRIAN'S FLING qualified well twice in a row. WHO'S CALLIN went good trip in first betting effort. WESTERN CHAMP was bred to be a winner.

2. LAST PAIGE keeps improving and might be ready to win one. HAVA'S AVA isn't much but is always tough in this kind of company. PRINCE DISCOVERY should finish in the money.

3. CLEVER NEWPORT is razor sharp. Just missed the last time but was hung half a mule. ERNEST HANOVER can upset with Fontaine doing the driving. LUX VALLEY has the pole but is a chronic breaker.

4. JACQUELINE BYRD and Frank Popfinger due to end slump. ATLAS BOY is almost always near the top. PRINCESS NORRIS has gone way back. Is a distance threat here.

5. WHAT NEXT can win in the stretch. OS CALCIS in a good barn but hasn't shown much as yet. MATT B. closes and must be feared from the pole.

6. HOMESTRETCH BOY has a fair record. Doesn't have much to beat in this one. SALLY VONIAN could surprise. LADY DIAMOND won last but in 2:11.4.

7. MERIE ADIOSON takes big dip in class after being overmatched. Has plenty of speed and can win without a break. FRISKY PRINCE has shown vast improvement. Maybe now. DUNDEEN a winner the last time out but will be meeting better.

8. STAR GUINEA was one of the best pacers at MR. Should beat this time. DORA'S JOY was "hottie" the last time and won like one. COLLIER HANOVER will be flying at the finish.

9. COMMON INTEREST entry lays over this field of classy two-year-olds. GALBUC goes to the top and must not stop. HI-AWATHA HANOVER still looking for initial victory.

NLL Field Day Slated Saturday

National Little League will hold its annual Field Day this Saturday, 1 p. m., at Kingston Park.

Races will be held for all ages and refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

Parents and relatives of Little League boys are invited to attend.

Montgomery Ward Nips Ramsey, 1-0,

Montgomery Ward was no-hit for six innings but managed to score a run on two safeties in the seventh and nip Charles Ramsey Corp., 1-0, in an American Little League playoff game last evening.

Pitcher Tom Gallo of the losers gave up a bloop double to Derrick White and an infield hit in the seventh before wild pitching the game's only run across the dish.

Gallo fanned 16 and walked only one. Winner Bill Brady allowed a second inning single and then no-hit the losers the rest of the way. He posted eight whiffs and passed eight batters. The lone hit off his slants was a second frame single by Wayne Fatum.

The clubs will resume their playoff series tonight. A Montgomery Ward win will clinch honors. A Ramsey decision will make a third game necessary.

Glasco Giants Gain 22-12 Win In ALL Playoffs

Catcher Steve Pasqua of the Giants hit two home runs, a double and two singles for a perfect 5-5 evening. Bob Clausi, the winning hurler, homered three times and doubled. Pete Watzka hit a homer and two doubles.

Other doubles were hit by Tom Cole, Nick Crantek, Frank Mauro, Joe Tiano, Dom Sasso and J. Rinaldi. Fiore had three hits and Tiano and Cashara two each for the losers.

The ENYGA Junior Championship Committee is composed of Nicholas K. Mattarozza of Edison Country Club, Chairman; Dr. Fred Holcomb of Wiltwyck Country Club, Pierce H. Russell of Troy Country Club, Robert Hogan of Burden Lake Country Club and H. Law Weatherwax of Red Hook Golf Club.

Honor the Mighty Mite

"Jackie Farrell Day" At Stadium, Sept. 13

New York Yankee rooters from three states will converge on Yankee Stadium on Sunday, Sept. 13, for "Jackie Farrell Day."

John Babiarz, veteran Hudson valley baseball figure, heads the committee which will honor the Mighty Mite of the Yankees' public relations department.

Farrell, widely known in the mid-Hudson area for his frequent speaking engagements in Poughkeepsie and Kingston, is generally regarded as the most popular member of the official Yankee family.

Fred Davi, of Kingston, a long time friend of Farrell's, and Joe Gallo, Beacon baseball player and promoter, are serving as co-chairmen of the Farrell Day committee. Davi reports that at least three busloads of fans will attend from the Kingston area.

Numerous prominent baseball personalities are expected to serve on the Babiarz's committee.

Ten thousand tickets have been set aside for the New Jersey delegation, Babiarz said. The Yankee office has set aside 1,200 tickets for the Hudson valley group. All interested fans are urged to make early reservations with Davi.

Area Drivers in Sport Car Rally

Three cars driven by members of the Catskill Mountain Sports Car Club competed in the recent Connecticut Sports Car Club "All Nighter Rally."

The cars competed in a European type rally from Saturday 9 p. m. to Sunday 9 a. m. over a course which included numerous Connecticut roads, including dirt roads, paved highways and parkways. The 12-hour run was over an approximate 350 mile course.

John Tormedis and Richard Bergin of Saugerties drove a Saab. The car was eliminated after only 12 miles when it blew an engine.

Lee McGinness and Robert Stine-mire of Saugerties, driving a 190-SL Mercedes-Benz, completed the rally but were lost for some time on the course.

An MGA driven by William Neifer of Saugerties and David Hoffman of Kingston completed the rally and lost only minutes during the 12-hour run. Unofficial figures indicate the MGA may have placed well up in front, as high as the first five cars to complete the run.

The standing of the cars completing the rally will not be known until Sept. 1, after the logs of the cars have been examined and the winners determined. Eighty-five cars competed. David Hoffman reported there were several accidents involving several of the entries during the race.

Marichal Is Almost Ready to Hurl Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Juan Marichal, the ace right-hander of the San Francisco Giants, pitched batting practice Tuesday night before the game against the Cincinnati Reds.

"He threw sliders and curve balls," said San Francisco coach Herman Franks. "He may be able to go again at the end of the week."

Marichal injured his back July 29 and hasn't pitched since. His record is 15-5.

Wood Goes Home This Weekend

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Gary Wood, Cornell's football hero of last year, returns to the campus at Ithaca, N.Y. Saturday as the No. 1 candidate for the job of No. 2 quarterback on the New York Giants.

Wood was the Giants' eighth draft choice and after one rather limited appearance in an exhibition game, Coach Alie Sherman gave him this accolade: "He is a quarterback."

Gary is expected to offer further proof when the Giants play Washington in an exhibition at Ithaca Saturday.

Wood hardly was tried at quarterback until about a week ago. With the idea of keeping all three candidates on the Giants' roster, Sherman had him working as a defensive halfback. He finally got his trial against the Green Bay Packers last Saturday night and it wasn't his fault the Giants' lost 34-10.

Wood's first pass was a long, perfect one but receiver Joe Morrison apparently was going too fast. Jerked back and the ball went through his hands and was intercepted. Later Gary moved the team down to the Packers seven to have Ernie Wheelwright, another rookie, fumble the ball away. Gary completed four of seven passes for 40 yards.

"I liked him," said Sherman. "He had a good vision. He moved the club and threw the ball well. He had good command. He did a lot with limited help."

BETWEEN YOU 'N' ME

by MURRAY

Alvin Dark has confided to at least one friend that he has had it in San Francisco, no matter where the Giants finish, after this year. And it has nothing to do with his controversial racial inter-view. Dark is splitsville with the Giant command for the following reasons:

● He wouldn't socialize with owner Horace Stoneham, who's a little Howard Hughes-ish in his habits. He won't even see Stoneham now. . . .

● Stoneham didn't like the way Dark was platooning some of his positions. . . .

● Stoneham objected to Dark leaving pitcher Bill O'Dell in a game for seven innings to take a 12-run shellacking the same day Horace got back from Hawaii. . . .

● The facts in a personal crisis in Dark's home life wouldn't make good reading. . . .

● Dark talked to Houston officials about the manager's job there without first clearing with the home office. . . .

The Bidwells, Billy and Stormy, aren't exactly happy over the decision to keep the football Cardinals in St. Louis. They sent a survey man to Atlanta last spring who brought back ecstatic reports. They also feel Gussie Busch is the man who drove them to the wall to stay in St. Louis (there was a letter of intent written by them a couple of years ago which threatened legal complications). Anyhow, Billy fumes, "Football, like baseball, is in the beer business. And I don't think we have to be."

At the N.L. meeting to re-word the league constitution, the clauses were being read off. Droned lawyer Marshall Leahy, "The commissioner will fix all price scales for the championship game." . . . Interrupted Billy Bidwell, "Don't you think we ought to change that word 'fix' to 'establish'?"

To illustrate how tough the golf tour has become, Bill Casper pointed out there were only eight strokes (two per round) between the winner and last place money in the Insurance Open. . . . Bullen Is Key In AL's Torrid Race Says Lopez

CHICAGO (AP) — The team with the strongest bullpen will win the American League pennant, take it from Al Lopez, manager of the Chicago White Sox.

Lopez, the only man who has broken the New York Yankee pennant stranglehold in the last 16 years by piloting Cleveland to the flag in 1954 and Chicago in 1959, claims this is the age in which pennants are won and lost in the bullpen.

Lopez dipped into his bullpen again Tuesday night and came up with knuckleballer Eddie Fisher to provide the Sox with their third straight victory, a 4-3 triumph over the Yankees.

Fisher, along with Hoyt Wilhelm and Don Mossi, helps provide the Sox with the bullpen power Lopez feels is necessary to win the flag.

This trio has combined for 14 victories and 26 saves to account for more than half of Chicago's triumphs which have moved the Sox within 1½ of league-leading Baltimore and 2½ games ahead of the third-place Yankees.

Bo Reinstated, Is Optioned Out

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bo Belinsky will refuse to be optioned to Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League, his attorney says.

Belinsky, suspended from his job as a lefthanded pitcher for the Los Angeles Angels, has 72 hours to report to Hawaii or face another suspension, the club said today.

Belinsky was originally placed on suspension after an altercation with sportswriter Braven Dyer.

Honor the Mighty Mite

"Jackie Farrell Day" At Stadium, Sept. 13

New York Yankee rooters from three states will converge on Yankee Stadium on Sunday, Sept. 13, for "Jackie Farrell Day."

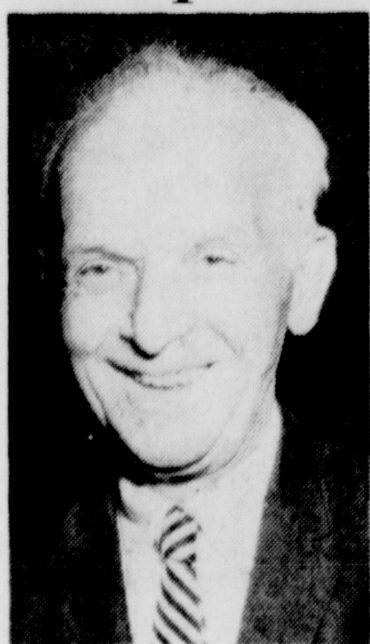

John Babiarz, veteran Hudson valley baseball figure, heads the committee which will honor the Mighty Mite of the Yankees' public relations department.

Farrell, widely known in the mid-Hudson area for his frequent speaking engagements in Poughkeepsie and Kingston, is generally regarded as the most popular member of the official Yankee family.

Fred Davi of Kingston, a long time friend of Farrell's, and Joe Gallo, Beacon baseball player and promoter, are serving as co-chairmen of the Farrell Day committee. Davi reports that at least three busloads of fans will attend from the Kingston area.

Numerous prominent baseball personalities are expected to serve on the Babiarz's committee.

Ten thousand tickets have been set aside for the New Jersey delegation, Babiarz said. The Yankee office has set aside 1,200 tickets for the Hudson valley group. All interested fans are urged to make early reservations with Davi.

Area Drivers in Sport Car Rally

Three cars driven by members of the Catskill Mountain Sports Car Club competed in the recent Connecticut Sports Car Club "All Nighter Rally."

The cars competed in a European type rally from Saturday 9 p. m. to Sunday 9 a. m. over a course which included numerous Connecticut roads, including dirt roads, paved highways and parkways. The 12-hour run was over an approximate 350 mile course.

John Tormedis and Richard Bergin of Saugerties drove a Saab. The car was eliminated after only 12 miles when it blew an engine.

Lee McGiness and Robert Stine-mire of Saugerties, driving a 190 - SL Mercedes-Benz, completed the rally but were lost for some time on the course.

An MGA driven by William Neifer of Saugerties and David Hoffman of Kingston completed the rally and lost only minutes during the 12-hour run. Unofficial figures indicate the MGA may have placed well up in front, as high as the first five cars to complete the run.

The standing of the cars completing the rally will not be known until Sept. 1, after the logs of the cars have been examined and the winners determined. Eighty-five cars competed. David Hoffman reported there were several accidents involving several of the entries during the race.

Marichal Is Almost Ready to Hurl Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Juan Marichal, the ace right-hander of the San Francisco Giants, pitched batting practice Tuesday night before the game against the Cincinnati Reds.

"He threw sliders and curve balls," said San Francisco coach Herman Franks. "He may be able to go again at the end of the week."

Marichal injured his back July 29 and hasn't pitched since. His record is 15-5.

Wood Goes Home This Weekend

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Gary Wood, Cornell's football hero of last year, returns to the campus at Ithaca, N.Y. Saturday as the No. 1 candidate for the job of No. 2 quarterback on the New York Giants.

Wood was the Giants' eighth draft choice and after one rather limited appearance in an exhibition game, Coach Allie Sherman gave him this accolade: "He is a quarterback."

Gary is expected to offer further proof when the Giants play Washington in an exhibition at Ithaca Saturday.

Wood hardly was tried at quarterback until about a week ago. With the idea of keeping all three candidates on the Giants' roster, Sherman had him working as a defensive halfback. He finally got his trial against the Green Bay Packers last Saturday night and it wasn't his fault the Giants lost 34-10.

Wood's first pass was a long, perfect one but receiver Joe Morrison apparently was going too fast, jerked back and the ball went through his hands and was intercepted. Later Gary moved the team down to the Packer seven only to have Ernie Wheelwright, another rookie, fumble the ball away. Gary completed four of seven passes for 40 yards.

"I liked him," said Sherman. "He had a good vision. He moved the club and threw the ball well. He had good command. He did a lot with limited help."

BETWEEN YOU 'N' ME

by TIMURRAY

Alvin Dark has confided to at least one friend that he has had it in San Francisco, no matter where the Giants finish, after this year. And it has nothing to do with his controversial racial interview. Dark is splitville with the Giant command for the following reasons:

● He wouldn't socialize with owner Horace Stoneham, who's a little Howard Hughes-ish in his habits. He won't even see Stoneham now. . . .

● Stoneham didn't like the way Dark was platooning some of his positions. . . .

● Stoneham objected to Dark leaving pitcher Bill O'Dell in a game for seven innings to take a 12-run shellacking the same day Horace got back from Hawaii. . . .

● The facts in a personal crisis in Dark's home life wouldn't make good reading. . . .

● Dark talked to Houston officials about the manager's job there without first clearing with the home office. . . .

When Hank Bauer was a right fielder with the Yankees, he was Casey Stengel's original platoon pet. Casey always yanked Hank against side-arming right-handers, leaving an inbred dislike for platooning in Bauer. . . .

"Basically," said the Baltimore skipper, "I still don't like platooning, but with certain hitters you got to do it. Boog Powell hasn't been hitting left-handers the last couple of weeks. Then you got a guy like Jackie Brandt (who's a righty hitter). This year he hits the right-handers and against the lefties he does nothing." . . .

The Bidwells, Billy and Stormy, aren't exactly happy over the decision to keep the football Cardinals in St. Louis. They sent a survey man to Atlanta last spring who brought back ecstatic reports. They also feel Gussie Busch is the man who drove them to the wall to stay in St. Louis (there was a letter of intent written by them a couple of years ago which threatened legal complications). Anyhow, Billy fumes, "Football, like baseball, is in the beer business. And I don't think we have to be." . . .

At the NFL meeting to re-word the league constitution, the clauses were being read off. Droned lawyer Marshall Leahy, "The commissioner will fix all price scales for the championship game." . . .

Interrupted Billy Bidwell, "Don't you think we ought to change that word 'fix' to 'establish'?" . . .

To illustrate how tough the golf tour has become, Bill Casper pointed out there were only eight strokes (two per round) between the winner and last place money in the Insurance Open. . . .

"The difference," said Casper, pointing to his noggin, "is in the thinking. Experience helps you plan shots. The young guys don't tighten up. They get too strong. Before I won my first tournament, I once was leading with five holes to go and finished with five 5's — on three of those holes I was so charged up, I drove the ball over the green." . . .

Mitchell Ray Renfro, whom the Ohio State kid succeeds, worked with Paul three days in the College All-Star camp and raved, "He learned more moves in that time than I knew after three years." . . .

Between you'n me, bouding Fred Hutchinson about the Cincinnati manager's state of health has become a ghoulish exercise in journalistic bad taste. . . .

Top Seeded Player

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Petite, refreshing Marsha Houghton, the youngest player in the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Tournament, seems not the least surprised at being ranked high in today's first round of play.

"I'm impressed by all these big names," said the 14-year-old Modesto, Calif., school girl after posting rounds of 77-77-154 in the 36-hole qualifying.

She was three strokes off the pace set by JoAnne Gunderson of Seattle, Barbara McIntire of Colorado Springs and Polly Riley of Fort Worth, who shared medalist honors at 151.

Miss Gunderson and Miss McIntire, both former winners, posted second rounds of 74 — one over par for the Prairie Dunes Country Club course — while Miss Riley, finalist in this event in 1953, turned in a 75.

Youth Has Close Call With Death, Fire After Crash

An 18-year-old Greene County youth narrowly escaped possible death at 10:15 a. m. Tuesday, when he lost control of his car on Route 23A at the horseshoe curve at Lookout Point east of Haines Falls.

Trooper A. J. Peterson of the Leeds sub-station, who investigated the mishap, said James Teetsel, of Tannersville, was driving his car down a steep hill when the vehicle failed to negotiate a left curve.

The car went through a concrete retaining wall and crashed into some trees. Trooper Peterson said below the trees where the car stopped, was a 500-foot drop down the rocky mountain-side.

The automobile burst into flames seconds after the youth crawled from it. Tannersville firemen were dispatched to the scene and extinguished the flames. The car was destroyed. Firemen rushed Teetsel to the Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill. He was treated for lacerations of the face and a possible skull fracture, according to Trooper Peterson.

Fire officials said the flames burned over 50 acres of woodland not far from the 1,100 acres that were swept by a major blaze last week. A group of youths from the Ukrainian National Association assisted volunteer firemen at the scene.

Firemen remained at the scene until about 10 p. m. yesterday. A fire detail of forest rangers kept a vigil through the night. Chief Samuels reportedly said that the fire would have been controlled earlier if more volunteers from the area had turned out to assist.

Wharton Predicts Victory to Slow Down Seat Ruling

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Congressman J. Ernest Wharton (R), 28th District, reported today that a poll of the House of Representatives discloses ample support to insure passage of the Senate proposal to slow down the reapportionment of State Legislatures as ordered by the Supreme Court.

The plan would allow states to hold elections for their Legislatures prior to Jan. 1, 1966 in accordance with existing statutes and permit them to hold one session of their Legislature in an effort to effect an orderly modification. This would insure the orderly conduct of the states' affairs and give the new Congress an opportunity to consider the desirability of submitting a Constitutional Amendment to them for ratification.

Without the grace period many of the smaller New York counties would lose their present representation in the Assembly and the remaining assemblymen would be required to seek office three times in as many years, while local governing bodies in the affected counties go without direct representation at Albany.

As one of the lead-off witnesses who appeared before the House Judiciary Committee during last month's hearings, Rep. Wharton urged that Congress submit a Constitutional Amendment to the states to grant them the prerogative of choosing one House of its Legislature on other than a population basis, or in the alternative to deny the Supreme Court the jurisdiction over cases of this nature. Wharton added that as long as the court binds itself inflexibly to the "one man, one vote" premise there can be no truly equitable solution because such decisions ignore such highly relevant factors as distribution of population; climate; topography; political heritage and the social and cultural habits of the smaller counties.

Therapy Patients to Show Handmade Wares at Fair

A wide range of handmade gifts and wares made by patients in the occupational therapy departments at the Ulster County TB Hospital and the Kingston Infirmary will be exhibited and sold at the Ulster County Fair at the Patient Services-Hospital booth.

Patients are admitted to the department's therapy program on recommendation of Dr. L. D. Arany, Medical Director of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, and of Mrs. Dorothy Gunzelmann and nursing staff at the Kingston Infirmary. Charles Tarsia, director of the occupational therapy departments at both institutions, along with the capable volunteer therapy aides, will prepare the fair display.

Therapy Aides at the Infirmary include Mrs. Dora Mollenhauer, Mrs. Herman DuBois, Mrs. William Hornbeck, Mrs. William Lahl, Miss Barbara Maines, Mrs. Anna Marks and Mrs. John Wolfersteig. Display preparations also are aided by Raphael Klein, Director of Adult Education, Kingston Consolidated Schools, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fraton and Mrs. Charles Tarsia. The Patient Services-Hospital fair display is sponsored, as in past years, by the Patient Services Committee of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, under the aid and chairmanship of Mrs. Clifford Donohue and Mrs. Mollenhauer.

Mrs. Donohue of the Association's TB Hospital Patient Services Committee has directed the staffing of the patients' crafts display for today. These attendants, composed largely of Patient Services Committee members, include: Mrs. Jacob Francis, Mrs. Alex Gerlak, Mrs. William Stopher, Mrs. Mason Millens, Mrs. Arnold Rymkevitch, Mrs. Richard Kalish, Mrs. Joseph Matey, Mrs. Florence Powell, Miss Mary Terwilliger, Miss Grace Terwilliger, Miss Kay Bower and Mrs. Donohue.

Thursday's staff of attendants include: Mrs. Mollenhauer, Mrs. DuBois and Mrs. Hornbeck of the therapy aides; Miss Lucy Baker, LPN, of the Infirmary nursing staff; Mrs. Helen King, Mrs. Shirley Kobran and Mrs. Pat Hepner.

Offered to Public

The displayed handicrafts are offered for sale. The sale funds go to the patient who made the item or partially also to replenish the department's supply of crafts materials for the patients. Tarsia and his aides encourage the patients to develop latent talents and to work effectively and creatively with their hands. In addition to the value of this as a year-round therapeutic program, the patient has the important psychological lift of recognition and productivity when his handiwork is desired and purchased at the attractive, artistic Patient Services handicraft display at the Annual Ulster County Fair.

Information concerning the hospital and infirmary therapy programs may be had at the Fair patient display or through calling the Ulster County TB and Health Association, 124 Green Street.

Counties to Ask More Drought Aid

Already eligible for emergency drought relief, farmers in nine counties are expected to seek further aid through release of government surplus feed grain from the New York State Disaster Committee.

Representing some 8,000 farmers in the parched upstate area, county agriculture agents met in Saratoga Springs Tuesday with the first cutting of hay at 40 to 60 per cent of the normal yield. In most counties, they noted, second and third cuttings produced only a third of normal crop.

Counties represented at the sessions were Greene, Columbia, Albany, Montgomery, Schoharie, Saratoga, Washington, Schenectady and Rensselaer.

County agents, who described this year's drought as "the worst we have ever seen," estimated the first cutting of hay at 40 to 60 per cent of the normal yield. In most counties, they noted, second and third cuttings produced only a third of normal crop.

Arany, Medical Director of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, and of Mrs. Dorothy Gunzelmann and nursing staff at the Kingston Infirmary. Charles Tarsia, director of the occupational therapy departments at both institutions, along with the capable volunteer therapy aides, will prepare the fair display.

Therapy Aides at the Infirmary include Mrs. Dora Mollenhauer, Mrs. Herman DuBois, Mrs. William Hornbeck, Mrs. William Lahl, Miss Barbara Maines, Mrs. Anna Marks and Mrs. John Wolfenstein. Display preparations also are aided by Raphael Klein, Director of Adult Education, Kingston Consolidated Schools, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fratoni and Mrs. Charles Tarsia. The Patient Services-Hospital fair display is sponsored, as in past years, by the Patient Services Committee of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, under the aid and chairmanship of Mrs. Clifford Donohue and Mrs. Mollenhauer.

Mrs. Donohue of the Association's TB Hospital Patient Services Committee has directed the staffing of the patients' crafts display for today. These attendants, composed largely of Patient Services Committee members, include: Mrs. Jacob Francis, Mrs. Alex Geriak, Mrs. William Stopher, Mrs. Mason Millers, Mrs. Arnold Rymkevitch, Mrs. Richard Kalish, Mrs. Joseph Matey, Mrs. Florence Powell, Miss Mary Terwilliger, Miss Grace Terwilliger, Miss Kay Bower and Mrs. Donohue.

Thursday's staff of attendants include: Mrs. Mollenhauer, Mrs. DuBois and Mrs. Hornbeck of the therapy aides; Miss Lucy Baker, LPN, of the Infirmary nursing staff; Mrs. Helen King, Mrs. Shirley Kobran and Mrs. Pat Hepper.

Offered to Public

The displayed handicrafts are offered for sale. The sale funds go to the patient who made the item or partially also to replenish the department's supply of crafts materials for the patients. Tarsia and his aides encourage the patients to develop latent talents and to work effectively and creatively with their hands. In addition to the value of this as a year-round therapeutic program, the patient has the important psychological lift of recognition and productivity when his handiwork is desired and purchased at the attractive, artistic Patient Services handicraft display at the Annual Ulster County Fair.

Information concerning the hospital and infirmary therapy programs may be had at the Fair patient display or through calling the Ulster County TB and Health Association, 124 Green Street.

Answers Your Insurance Questions

QUESTION: When an endorsement is put on an insurance policy, does it always change the terms of the policy?

ANSWER: Not exactly. An endorsement might add something to be insured or cover a change of automobiles or merely a change of address of an insured person. The endorsement is used just so a whole new policy need not be written.
